Mill Valley Man Killed In Smashup On Bridge

Traffic Is Tied Up For Over Half Hour

A 60-year-old Mill Valley man was killed last night when the car in which he was riding was struck head-on by another auto on the Golden Gate Bridge just north of the south tower, at 8:20 p.m.

Louis Even of 82 Meadow Road was dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital in San Franicsco at 8:57 p.m.

The crash tied up all traffic on the bridge for over a half hour, backing up northbound traffic as far south as Lombard Street in San Francisco, and southbound traffic beyond the north end of the span.

DEEP CUTS

Even died of deep cuts in his head and a broken skull, according to the San Francisco coroner's office.

Five other persons were injured.

Melvin Eugene Walton, 38, of San Francisco, a janitor for the Sausalito school district, was driving south on the bridge, halfway between the south tower and the cable anchorage, when his car veered across the dividing line.

It smashed head-on into a car driven northbound by Joseph John Coscia, 53, of 13 Bay Vista Drive, Strawberry. Even was a passenger in the rear seat of Coscia's car.

POLIO VICTIM

Walton's car continued on and collided head-on with another car being driven by Mrs. Jacqueline Major Cleveland, 33, of 2130 Mar East, Tiburon.

Walton wears braces on his legs from a polio attack. His driver's license restricts him to automatic gear shift cars, which the California Highway Patrol said he was driving.

The highway patrol said today it was investigating a report that Walton blacked out in a hit-run accident in San Francisco in September. Officers said that the last thing Walton remembered was driving south on the bridge.

Walton was treated for cuts on his lip, left hand and chin at Central Emergency Hospital.

Coscia was taken to Park Emergency Hospital and transferred to Presbyterian Medical Center, where he was in fair condition today with broken ribs and bruises.

His wife, Lizette Coscia, 55, was in fair condition at the medical center today with numerous cuts and a broken arm. Florida Even, 50, wife of Even, was treated for shock at Central Emergency Hospital.

Mrs. Cleveland, who was thrown out of her car, was treated for bruises on her nose and forehead and cuts and bruises on her scalp at Park Emergency Hospital.

Funeral arrangements for Even, an auto parts dealer, were pending.

DRIVER RETIRING

Five-Million-Mile Bus Trip Is Over

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Harry Copestick of Mill Valley was to head his Greyhound bus toward the Golden Gate Bridge for the last time at 4:45 p.m. today. He figures he's racked up some five million miles behind the steering wheel.

Scheduled to ride home with him on his final run was his commuting wife, Myrtis, who works for Crown-Zellerbach Corp. in San Francisco. Two former Greyhound drivers were also among longtime friends who planned to "take the last ride with Harry."

Red-headed Copestick, 65, began driving for a "Jackass Battery" of the U.S. Army in the Philippines in 1915 and has driven 21 years for Greyhound. He is quick to say he has plenty of drive left.

Copestick is the first man to retire as a driver from Greyhound's Division Five since Greyhound took over commute service in Marin in 1937 when the Golden Gate Bridge was opened. Division Five stretches from Novato to Palo Alto.

Born in Everett, Wash., Copestick grew up in Northern Pacific railroad depots where his father was depot agent. He has been "right on schedule ever since," says his wife. He has never been marked up for a "sleep-in" with Greyhound.

As a boy he drove a meat cart behind a cayuse pony. He worked as water boy in a coal mine, sold papers on San Francisco's Barbary Coast, and once taught dancing on roller skates.

At 16 he told a recruit sergeant he was 21 and joined the Army. His first driving job was navigating a 22-passenger La Follette bus from Dagupan to

Johnson Tells Military Heads He Wants Service Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson told the Joint Chiefs of Staff today that he wants "a dollar's value for every dollar spent" on national defense.

In his first meeting with the military high command as commander in chief, Johnson emphasized the insistence on economy which he mentioned in his address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday, the White House said.

The conference with the joint chiefs headed a long list of appointments on Johnson's first full day of uninterrupted work in his White House office, aimed at his newly declared goal of "a new American greatness."

The new president set that target for his administration last night in his Thanksgiving address to the nation. The brief speech coupled announcement of new honors for the slain President John F. Kennedy with an appeal to put "this midnight of tragedy" into the past and look forward to the work that must be done.

Today's schedule underscored Johnson's concern with getting prompt action from Congress, if possible, on the key legislative proposals inherited from Kennedy, including taxes and civil rights.

His final visitor this morning was Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and a leader in the Negro drive for integration and equal opportunity.

Press aide Andrew Hatcher told reporters Wilkins was invited to the White House by Johnson, adding that they have been "good friends for a number of years, and there is a good deal of mutual respect between them."

Johnson conferred by telephone this morning with the Democratic leader of the House and Senate, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana and Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts, on the outlook for the legislative program, including tax reduction and civil rights.

Johnson is keeping in touch daily with the congressional leaders, Hatcher added.

The president also received an intelligence briefing from presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy. Johnson is relying on Bundy, top White House adviser on national security affairs, instead of a military aide, to keep him posted.

With the joint chiefs, Johnson discussed operating procedure and told them no change is contemplated in the machinery and coordinating the operations of the joint chiefs with the White House.

U.S. To Probe Assassination Of Kennedy

LBJ Will Name Blue-Ribbon Inquiry Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson will name a blue-ribbon board of inquiry to investigate the assassination of John F. Kennedy, a congressional leader announced today.

House Democratic whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana disclosed that the board will be made up of top-ranking senators and house members along with non-congressional authorities.

ALL FACTS

It will be directed to pull together all facts about the assassination for a report to the American people. The inquiry, Boggs acknowledged, was aimed at heading off a series of rival House and Senate hearings that were shaping up as an aftermath to the Kennedy murder.

Boggs said: "It will be a very high-level inquiry. It will be conducted in a way to avoid any political taint. There will be no unseemly scramble of hearings."

The FBI, the Secret Service and Dallas authorities already have undertaken police investigations of the shooting of Kennedy by Lee Harvey Oswald and his subsequent slaying in turn by nightclub operator Jack Ruby.

NO COMMENT

Assistant White House news secretary Andrew Hatcher said today he did not know when the report of the FBI investigation would be made public or if the investigation has been completed. The FBI has refused all comment on the assassination during its probe.

Boggs announced the president's intention of appointing a non-political board of inquiry after several House members at a brief session today expressed concern over rival House and Senate investigations cropping up in the case.

Those who had undertaken the task already were the House and Senate judiciary committees and the House committee on Un-American Activities.

Helicopters Will Begin In 30 Days

San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines announced today it hopes to begin service to Marin County within 30 days.

Marin was put at the top of the priority list for expansion of SFO Helicopter service by M. F. Bagan, company president. But still to be worked out is the problem of a site here, he said.

The Civil Aeronautics Board on Wednesday granted SFO Helicopter Airlines an operating certificate to serve Marin, Contra Costa, and the San Francisco Peninsula in addition to its present San Francisco-Oakland service.

Bagan said the firm hopes to get started in Marin within 30 days, in Contra Costa in 60 to 90 days, and on the peninsula within six months.

He said he is adding three 28-passenger Sikorsky helicopters to the fleet.

The 'copter line has asked Marin County to take over the Commodore seaplane base in Sausalito, with payment of 25 cents per passenger to the county for use privileges. County supervisors balked at the idea.

Bagan said he is hopeful that some arrangement can be worked out for the Commodore site. He said a second site in Marin also will be sought.

Besides its Marin site trouble, the helicopter line must abandon service to the Ferry Building in San Francisco on Jan. 1 because of deterioration of the pier. Bagan said negotiations are under way for use of the San Francisco Bay Bridge terminal roof.

The CAB certification enables SFO to carry air express and cargo as well as passengers.

2 Nabbed At Gunpoint In Medical Center

Two men were in Marin County Jail on burglary charges today after being apprehended at gunpoint by San Anselmo police last night in a medical center building.

Arrested were Leo A. Weist, 25-year-old house painter of Fairfax, and William Curtis Allen III, 23, transient.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said Weist, residing at Marin Town and Country Club, also is charged with parole violation.

The suspects were nabbed at 9:15 p.m. yesterday in the laboratory room of Hensler and Alderson Medical Center, 915 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Chief Buchignani said the men tripped a burglar alarm by breaking a west window.

Responding to the alarm were Sgt. Ray Velati and Patrolmen Edward Silvia and Al Howenstein. The latter two covered building exits, and Sgt. Velati entered. The suspects, confronted at gunpoint, surrendered peacefully.

Sergeant Velati reported both were wearing surgical gloves, apparently stolen in the center and worn to prevent leaving fingerprints. Chief Buchignani said nothing else was believed to have been stolen. He said both suspects were sleepy-eyed and nearly incoherent, seemingly under the influence of narcotics.

The men were unaware of having tripped the alarm, police added.

A search of the men's pickup truck outside disclosed two medical bags, Chief Buchignani said. He said the bags were stolen last Wednesday in Mill Valley from Dr. John R. Lee, 178 Tamalpais Avenue, and Dr. Thomas W. Stone, 250 Tamalpais Avenue.

Weist was paroled from San Quentin Prison on Aug. 2, 1962, where he was serving a six-year sentence for possession of narcotics and armed robbery.

The armed robbery was the May 7, 1958, holdup of Kentfield Pharmacy in which $170 was taken.

The narcotics charge resulted from discovery of marijuana in the home Weist then occupied at 67 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, in February of 1959.

Officers found two cans of marijuana hidden in the attic and said Weist also produced a small vial of marijuana seeds from a drawer in the front room.

Weist began serving time May 27, 1959.

Allen apparently has no previous record, Chief Buchignani said.

Yank Won't Leave Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — A 36-year-old Alaskan vowed today he will not leave the Soviet Union until he weds his Russian fiancee.

Lawrence Brayton, of Fairbanks, said Soviet authorities have given him until midnight tonight to leave.

He came here Oct. 27 to marry Rosita Shifman, 25, a Moscow speech therapist, and has overstayed his Soviet visa by 23 days.

Brayton said Soviet municipal authorities scheduled the wedding for Dec. 17 and would not arrange it for an earlier date.

Tourists Visiting White House Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hundreds of tourists moved in solemn file through the White House today, viewing the East Room of the crepe-hung mansion as it looked when John F. Kennedy's body lay there last week.

Public tours of the White House were resumed today at the request of the widowed Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. The crowds of visitors were heavier than usual and many stood in soaking rain for the gates to open.

Living Costs Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up to an all-time high in October, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. But a spokesman said the rise of one-tenth of 1 per cent was strictly seasonal.

Privileges Due Kennedy Widow

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to provide an office, staff and free mailing privileges for Mrs. John F. Kennedy will be the first business of the House Monday, leaders said today.

The bill would give the president's widow the mail franking privilege for life.

The office would be set up for six months, with $50,000 authorized for payment of employees.

The law gives widows of presidents a pension of $10,000 a year.

Mrs. JFK Suggested As French Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of a Michigan Congresswoman said today she has suggested that Jacqueline Kennedy be named ambassador to France.

The spokesman said Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich.) made the suggestion.

'Madman' Is Picked Up —Wanted To Kill JFK

OGDENSBURG, N. Y. (AP) — State police today took into custody an escaped mental patient described by police as a man who wanted to kill President John F. Kennedy and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller because he, the patient, had been unable to go to Russia.

State police said Guy Patterson, 33, was found in the area of Redwood, about 35 miles southwest of Ogdensburg.

Much of the police information about Patterson bore a resemblance to that given about Lee Harvey Oswald of Fort Worth, Tex., who was slain Nov. 24 while under arrest on a charge of assassinating President Kennedy.

Patterson escaped yesterday.

Police in Plattsburgh, who arrested Patterson last June, said they had been summoned to a rooming house and found Patterson typing letters and shouting threats, not only against the president and the governor, but against other officials and his parents.

Patterson, who gave his home as Pineville, Ky., was "mad at everybody because they wouldn't let him go to Russia," police said. Police reported finding several books on communism in his room.

While police hunted Patterson, five other mental patients escaped in a group early today from Rockland State Hospital at Ogdensburg, in southeastern New York.

Bridge Scene Of 2nd Crash

The Golden Gate Bridge was the scene of another injury accident shortly after the three-car accident at 8:20 p.m. yesterday which claimed the life of Louis Even of 82 Meadow Road, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Barbara Jean Africa, 41, of 53 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, wife of Spike Africa, lost control of her car 150 feet south of the north tower and hit the bridge railing.

A passenger, Augustine Chong, 23, of San Francisco, was thrown out of the car. She was treated at Park Emergency Hospital in San Francisco for bruises of the chest and ribs.

Mrs. Africa was southbound on the bridge at 10:48 p.m.

Mrs. Kennedy Secluded With Her Two Children

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was secluded today with her two children at the Kennedy compound, with heavy rain adding to the gloom of her reunion with her parents-in-law.

The mother of the late President John F. Kennedy went to an early Mass today—and remained for two of them. Her son, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, joined his mother for the second Mass.

Senator Kennedy said his parents and the widow were bearing up well.

He said it had been planned to take the children ice skating today on the outdoor rink the family gave the town of Barnstable as a memorial to the late Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., who was killed in World War II. But the rain spoiled the ice.

The president's widow joined the Kennedy family for Thanksgiving dinner late yesterday.

Mrs. Kennedy flew to Cape Cod yesterday with Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, to have dinner with former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, her husband's parents, and others of the large family.

It was her first meeting with the 75-year-old head of the family since the assassination of the president a week ago today in Dallas, Tex.

Before leaving Washington, Mrs. Kennedy again visited her husband's grave. It was her fifth visit since the burial Monday.

Every effort was made to shield Mrs. Kennedy from the curious when she arrived.

An Air Force plane which brought her to Otis Air Force Base taxied down the runway to a remote hangar.

She and her children, along with her sister, Princess Lee Radizwill, transferred to a family car out of sight of newsmen.

Mrs. Kennedy went directly to her father-in-law's home, the largest of three which make up the fenced compound. Later, lights came on in her summer home.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has the third house in the compound, had been expected to join his parents on the Thanksgiving weekend, but decided to remain at his McLean, Va. home with his wife and children.

200,000 Pay Visit To Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 200,000 Americans put aside their Thanksgiving dinners for a while and made their way on a bleak and gray day up a hill to a grave.

Four little sisters picked chrysanthemums from their grandmother's garden and dropped them by the grave.

Thanksgiving Day became a day of homage to John F. Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

Traffic slowed and jammed as the thousands drove toward the cemetery overlooking the Potomac River. Many parked their cars and began to walk to the cemetery.

They carried faded roses and ferns, bought in stores the day before.

Silently, they paid their respects at the picket fence that surrounds the grave and the eternal light burning over the body of the president, who was assassinated a week ago today.

Ruby Trial On TV?

DALLAS (UPI) — Millions of persons who saw Jack Ruby shoot Lee Harvey Oswald to death on television may have a chance to watch Ruby's murder trial by the same medium.

In Texas, it is up to the presiding judge whether cameras will be allowed in his court.

And District Judge Joe B. Brown, who will hear Ruby's trial, is undecided. "I'll have to give it some thought," he said. Brown has allowed photographers in his courtroom in the past.

Tom Howard, Ruby's chief counsel, said he ordinarily is opposed to live courtroom telecasts but would not object in this case.

Cape Canaveral Named For Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Cape Canaveral today bears the name of Cape Kennedy, honoring John F. Kennedy, who designated it as the blastoff point for trips to the moon.

President Lyndon B. Johnson also named this Florida East Coast promontory's vast facilities for rocketry the John F. Kennedy Space Center.

The surprise action last night drew mostly favorable comment here but it posed some problems for businesses which have capitalized on the Cape Canaveral name.

Some officials, including Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida and missile-space program executives, drew heartening inference that Johnson's action means full-speed ahead on the man-in-the moon flight and other projects President Kennedy pushed.

JFK Last Act Freed Prisoner

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Tomoya Kawakita, 42, serving a life sentence for wartime treason, was ordered freed from the McNeil Island, Wash., federal prison in one of President John F. Kennedy's final acts, his lawyer said yesterday.

Kawakita

Attorney Morris Lavine said he received a telegram last Wednesday informing him the president had signed an order for the convicted Japanese-American's release on the condition that he leave the United States and never return.

Kawakita, who had served as an interpreter for the Japanese at a prisoner-of-war camp during World War II, was convicted at a federal court trial here in 1948 of eight acts of treasonable brutality inflicted on American prisoners.

Johnson's Biggest Domestic Problem Will Be Civil Rights

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political necessity of getting Congressional action on civil rights is President Lyndon B. Johnson's biggest domestic problem—just as it was John F. Kennedy's.

The current mood of moderation among the lawmakers may produce some relatively speedy action on aid to education, vocational training and other bills when they return from their holiday next week.

But the fierce controversy over the late president's program for an expansion of racial equality will test all of Johnson's vaunted ability to tack with the legislative wind to reach his objective.

Johnson has called for action now on Kennedy's civil rights legislation. The possibilities of getting it likely will be discussed today at a meeting between Johnson and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Kennedy's relations with Congress were building to a crisis—a situation Johnson has inherited. Yet the new President can not afford in an election year not to get what Negro voters regard as meaningful civil rights legislation.

Kennedy's strength with the Negroes was unquestioned, Johnson's is not readily assessable.

If the president has to compromise the rights bill to get Congress' approval for it, he could lose ground sharply with Negroes, particularly if the Republicans nominate a strong civil rights advocate.

There now is no apparent way to move past the barrier of a Southern Democratic filibuster in the Senate a bill containing the controversial section that would enforce desegregation on selected businesses dealing with the public.

If Robert F. Kennedy remains as attorney general and Johnson follows his advice in this field, the president would refuse to compromise this provision any further.

The attorney general thinks that any civil rights legislation without a strong public accommodations provision would be unacceptable to Negroes.

House leaders began oiling up two old parliamentary moves to prevent the Southern-led Rules Committee from blocking action on the civil rights bill.

One would bypass the committee; the other would temporarily strip Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) of his control over the 15-member group. Smith is strongly opposed to the rights measure.

Marin Planners To Hear Request For Bus Parking Near Oak Manor

Another hearing will be held Monday morning by the Marin County Planning Commission on Western Greyhounds Line's request for a bus parking lot near Oak Manor, west of Fairfax.

Residents in the area are complaining about noise, dust and glare of headlights and ask that the bus lot be moved elsewhere.

The planning commission meeting will open at 9 a.m. on the third floor of the civic center.

Hearings are also scheduled on proposed zoning maps for Point San Quentin and Bolinas-Stinson Beach areas.

Point San Quentin is now zoned industrial. The proposal is to rezone the entire area for one-family homes, except for two parcels of apartments.

In the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area, the proposal is to designate most of the area for one-family homes, with some apartments and commercial.

The master plan for Marin Highlands, the 250-acre Pimentel Ranch in West Novato, will be discussed again. At the previous hearing, planning commissioners approved in principle nine acres of apartments along Vineyard Road, five acres of commercial, and three or four clusters of one-family homes with recreation areas.

Other items on the Monday agenda for the county planning commission include:

Duplex zoning for five acres in Santa Venetia, on the north side of north San Pedro Road between Labrea Way and Vendola Drive.

A one-story office and storage building for George Kappas on Richardson Bay at Waldo Point, south of Richardson Bay Bridge.

A proposal to change the county zoning ordinance so that dwellings will be prohibited from industrial and certain commercial zones.

Application for a market and service station on Mount Shasta Drive near Lucas Valley Road, Lucas Valley.

First public hearing on the Tennessee Valley master plan, which would provide a planned community of one - family homes on 63 acres west and southwest of Tamalpais Valley School. George Goheen is the developer.

Broderick Investment Co.'s request for 81 apartment units on Alameda Del Prado at Redwood Highway, Loma Verde.

Marin Redevelopment Agency's request for a use permit to build 77 cooperative apartments in Marin City on the south side of Donahue Street east and west of Buckelew Street.

Architectural supervision for 48 apartment units at 5922-5947 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, north of Galli's Restaurant.

Talk Of New Church

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and San Francisco Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken met privately Thanksgiving Day and discussed the new church planned to replace burned-out St. Mary's Cathedral.

Italian architect Pier Luigi Nervi is a consultant for the new church, and the archbishop had been discussing it with him while in Rome for the Ecumenical Council.

University Coed Vanished One Month Ago

ALBANY (UPI)—One month ago today Judith Williamson, 18, a University of California, Berkeley, coed vanished.

Today police, in disclosing two new facts, theorize Judith may have had a prior arrangement with someone and driven off that morning, later to be slain.

Albany Police Chief Ralph Jensen said his department has learned that on the night prior to Judith's disappearance she telephoned a girl friend and canceled an apointment to meet her on the campus the following morning.

Jensen said he also learned that Judy told her mother she would be late getting home the night of Oct. 29—the day she vanished—because she was going to "try to get an appointment with an oculist."

Bolinas Meeting

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Stinson Beach community center. The commission did not meet last night because of the holiday, president Gene W. McDaniel said.

APPOINTMENT — Russ R. Lloyd, 233 Ricardo Road, Strawberry, has been named deputy regional director of the federal supply service of the General Services Administration. He will be responsible for supply programs for California, Nevada, Hawaii, Far Eastern countries and the islands of the Pacific. Lloyd is president of the Strawberry Recreation District.

One of the methods used by a Canadian bank to attract feminine customers is a perfumed checkbook.

Only One Arlington Street For Novato

There won't be so many Arlingtons in Novato hereafter.

Novato Post Office employees found themselves somewhat flummoxed when two streets in Holiday Hills subdivision were named Arlington Circle and Arlington Court. There was already an Arlington Drive in Forest Park subdivision.

The postoffice asked the city council to do something about it. The council passed the ball to the planning commission.

Planning commissioners this week came up with a solution: Arlington Drive (in Forest Park) will become Arlington Circle. Arlington Circle (in Holiday Hills) will become Terry Circle. Arlington Court (in Holiday Hills) will become Shari Court.

The commission also changed the name of Foothill Drive (in Westridge), at post office request. Hereafter it will be Balra Drive.

The commission felt it was adding to confusion created by Nave Court, Nave Lanes, Nave Shopping Center, etc., by giving the name Nave Drive to the new east service road beside Highway 101 near Hamilton Air Force Base. But the county board of supervisors had already approved this name for the portion of the road in unincorporated territory, so the city planners decided they were forced to go along.

Novato Police Are Donating

The Novato Police Officers Assn. is donating $50 to the widow of J. D. Tippits, Dallas policeman who was shot trying to capture Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, according to acting police chief Robert DiGrazia.

The police will also accept other donations —for her, to be included with that of the police association.

"We have another $10 donation from someone and will gladly handle any other such gifts," DiGrazia said.

Hamilton Wing Being Honored

Next week has been proclaimed "Golden Gate Wing Week" by the mayors of several Bay Area cities, including Novato, San Rafael and Mill Valley.

The week was designated to pay tribute to the 349th Troop Carrier Wing (reserve) at Hamilton Air Force Base, which was called into active duty a year ago during the Cuban crisis. It remained on active duty for one month, prepared to transport troops in case of an invasion of Cuba.

Mayors M. E. Babe Sylva of Novato, John F. McInnis of San Rafael and Joseph E. Sheeks of Mill Valley have all issued proclamations paying tribute to the wing and setting aside the week, starting Monday.

Coffee Price Hike

NEW YORK (AP)—The Maxwell House division of General Foods Corp. said today it will increase wholesale prices of ground Maxwell House, Yuban and Sanka coffees two cents a pound starting Dec. 2. The company said the increase was due to higher prices of green coffee.

Doctors Clash On Mental Plan

Doctors clashed today on the question of who should administer the proposed mental health program in Marin County: the county health department or an independent agency.

The controversy ended in a deadlock after a one-hour discussion on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" broadcast.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, making her first public statement on the issue, said she "would welcome" administration of the program.

Dr. C. R. Leininger, president of the Marin Medical Society, and Dr. Philip Hicks, a member of the Marin Psychiatric Society, contended the program should be administered by an independent agency and directed by a psychiatrist.

Responding to listener's questions, Doctors Leininger and Hicks said there was no "antagonism" or "hostility" by doctors toward the county health department. They also said the associations they represented have "no ulterior motives" in their stands.

In answer to a listener's question, "Do you think all the reasons for opposition have come out?" Dr. Albrecht said, "Everyone is free to speculate for himself."

Mrs. Herbert Baum, president of the Marin Assn. for Mental Health, said the county health department is "best suited" to administer the proposed program.

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health will not oppose any program, but "was shocked to find the program in jeopardy because at the last moment, opposition has developed from members of the medical profession to the administrative structure," she said.

In a prepared statement, Dr. Albrecht presented 15 reasons why the county health department should administer the program, including the facts that it already provides mental health services, "is not tied in with vested interests," and is a full-time agency.

"We consider mental health an integral part of total health," she said.

Dr. Leininger said the program director should be a psychiatrist because under the Short-Doyle Act the program directors help to set state policy and because psychiatrists are trained in the problems of the mind.

Marin County's proposed mental health program would under the Short-Doyle Act which provides 50 per cent state participation at the outset and 75 per cent later.

Dr. Hicks said the "nature and scope" of a mental hygiene clinic that would adequately meet the needs of Marin County would not "easily fit into the structure or operation of any existing agency now in the county, including the office of county physician and the health department."

Neither the office of the county psysician nor the health department has the space or staff "for the most minimal program," he contended. The program will be re-broadcast by tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Emergency Procedure Suggested By Medics

Marin Medical Society, through Dr. C. R. Leininger, president, today set forth a suggested procedure to follow in emergency calls for physicians.

Dr. Leininger said the society did so as result of confusion arriving on the morning of Nov. 23, when Mrs. Harvey Avellon of 115 Spring Grove Avenue, San Rafael, discovered her infant son apparently lifeless and called police for a physician.

The San Rafael police dispatcher, following long practice of the department, called San Rafael General Hospital and was referred to the physician on emergency call for the hospital. That physician, Dr. Richard Wolk, had just gone to bed after a night of answering emergency calls and told the police dispatcher it would take him 20 to 25 minutes to dress and reach the Avellon home. He suggested the dispatcher call the Marin Medical Society, which maintains an emergency call roster on 24-hour basis.

Dr. John Erlwein responded to the call to the society. He reached the home 32 minutes after the call was placed to police, and found the baby dead.

Dr. Leininger asked that it be clarified that Dr. Erlwein believed the infant had been dead for several hours when discovered by the mother.

The medical society, said Dr. Leininger, urges that anyone wishing a doctor in an emergency follow this procedure:

First, try to contact the family physician of the patient —if there is one and his name is known.

Second, if this fails, call the Marin Medical Society (454-6034, night or day).

"A rotating panel of physicians in general practice and all specialties is immediately available and the doctor who will be contacted is aware that he is on call for such emergencies," said Dr. Leininger.

The stand of the American Medical Assn. regarding physicians' response to calls, said the Marin society, is that "a physician has the same right to accept or refuse to care for a patient that the patient has in selecting his doctor. In the presence of an emergency, however, a physician has the responsibility to respond personally or to obtain the services of another physician through his own personal efforts if he feels that another physician can be obtained with equal rapidity who may be better qualified to meet that emergency.

"The question of what constitutes a true medical emergency would be left to the judgment of the physician."

Dr. Leininger said a committee of the medical society is considering improvements to the emergency call system, which "may require the close cooperation of the board of supervisors." He did not elaborate this.

"Our message would be better disseminated if our repeated attempts had been successful to persuade the Pacific Telephone Co. to place our emergency telephone number in the front of the phone directory," he added.

NWP Faces $130,068 Fire Suit

Owners of an apartment house which was destroyed by the 1961 fire in the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel under Puerto Suello Hill have filed suit for $130,068.77 against the railroad.

The suit, filed today by owners Rudolph R. and Constance Schwarzer of Sonoma claims that the railroad company was negligent —in maintaining the tunnel, saying it should either have been fireproofed or guarded.

The tunnel burned July 20, 1961, killing one fireman in a resultant cave-in which destroyed the apartment built over the tunnel at 1867 Lincoln Avenue. The 12-unit building was party destroyed by the cave-in, and completely burned out by the fire which caught from the tunnel blaze.

Twenty-six persons were left homeless in the blaze. The Schwarzers ask $100,000 for the building and the balance for rentals they say they would have received. They also ask that the value of future rentals before settlement be included.

Marinite Kin Murder Unsolved

The Oregon murder of the cousin of a San Rafael woman remained unsolved today, but officers sought a former employee for questioning.

The body of Mrs. Minnie C. Millison, 63, of Canby, Ore., 18 miles from Portland, was found in her home Saturday. There were two wounds in her head from .22 caliber bullets.

Mrs. Millison was the cousin of Mr. R. Keith Dearth, executive vice president of the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. of San Rafael and Mill Valley. She returned to San Rafael yesterday from Mrs. Millison's funeral.

Police arrested two farm workers found with Mrs. Millison's car several miles from her home. In the car was a .22 caliber pistol, believed to be the murder weapon.

The two men told police, however, that they had been picked up by a driver who later left them and the car at a service station.

Police were seeking Kenneth Earl Dowdy, 39, who worked in Mrs. Millison's home. Mrs. Millison had dismissed him Saturday because she was selling the house and was planning to move to Portland, Mrs. Dearth said.

Mrs. Dearth also said her cousin's valuable diamond ring was missing and there were only $2 in the house. Mrs. Dearth is —convinced the motive was robbery.

Newsman Kennedy Dies At 58

MONTEREY (UPI) — Edward Kennedy, associate editor of the Monterey Peninsula Herald and former war correspondent, died today of injuries suffered in a traffic accident. He was 58.

Police said he was walking home early Sunday when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Alice Kathleen O'Connell Tornell, 24, of Monterey. She was not cited.

Kennedy, born in Brooklyn, N.Y., was an architecture student at Carnegie Institute of Technology when he turned to newspaper work. He started as a reporter on the Canonsburg, Pa., Notes and later worked on papers in New York, New Jersey and Washington before joining the New York Herald Tribune Paris staff in 1931.

In 1935, he joined the Associated Press in Paris. He subsequently covered the Spanish Civil War, Hitler's entry into the Sudetenland, and from Cairo directed coverage of the Sicilian and Italian invasions.

Kennedy was the center of controversy in 1945 when he released news of Germany's surrender at Rheims. Military authorities said he released the news prematurely and without authorization.

CORE Picketing Will Be Resumed

Marin Congress of Racial Equality will resume picketing tomorrow and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dusk before Walburn Realty in Mill Valley in protest against alleged racial discrimination, chairman Douglas J. Quiett said today.

Picketing was conducted Nov. 16 and 17, CORE charging that the firm had offered an $105 a month apartment to whites but not to a Negro woman.

Bagio over a zigzag mountain trail.

Leaving the Army, Copestick drove stage for the R. R. Young Stage Lines in 1922 between Stockton, Groveland and Sonora. Then he drove for Seattle-Renton-Bothell Lines and, later, Royal Blue Cab Co., in Washington.

Copestick next drove for a sightseeing service between Seattle, Tacoma and Paradise Valley. During the depression, Copestick, who has two daughters and 10 grandchildren, picked apples, raised chickens, and drove a Vashon Island bus.

In 1936, while a cook in Glendale, he met his wife-to-be over some "tasty crab louie." He says he taught Myrtis to cook.

On Aug. 15, 1942, Copestick joined Greyhound in San Francisco, immediately fell in love with Mill Valley, one of his first schedules, and moved there.

"I was the instigator of the 16-hour law," Copestick says proudly. The law reads that when a driver has 15 working hours, he is allowed one hour to get home and then must have eight hours rest with two hours to report for duty. Before the law went into effect, Copestick said, he once worked 65 hours "without taking my shoes off."

"Most of my passengers, Copestick reported, "plain drop off to sleep by the time the bus turns off Bay Street or the embarcadero. If they don't wake up, I know their stops and wake them up."

The driver has a gold watch and several pins, one diamond studded, for his safe driving.

Between now and 100 Copestick plans to take a lot of photographs, repair a lot of old spinning wheels for his wife, a spinner, and continue activities with the Masons, bowl, collect rocks, and play poker, pinochle, cribbage and Panguine.

The Copesticks, who live at 271 Miller Avenue, usually travel on their vacations. "It's a bus man's holiday," Mrs. Copestick said. "And he won't let me drive although I have driven since I was 16."

Police Probe Two Thefts

San Rafael police today were investigating two minor thefts and a stolen car report.

Melton Ferris, 460 Nova Albion Way, Terra Linda, told officers his 1961 automobile was taken from his residence Wednesday night.

Kenneth David Phelps, 1004-B Los Gamos Road, told officers the convertible side windows of his sports car were taken from the vehicle parked Wednesday night at the residence. Value was estimated at $50.

Mrs. F. Annabelle Head, 304 D Street, reported a $40 bowling ball and carrying bag were taken from her home Wednesday.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary Sheridan Rites Set

Requiem High Mass for Mary D. Sheridan of 455 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, a 14-year resident of Marin, will be offered at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Greenbrae.

Mrs. Sheridan, wife of Ralph J. Sheridan, died in a local hospital Wednesday after a long illness. She was 51.

A native of San Francisco, she won a scholarship to Dominican College in San Rafael. She transferred to University of California at Berkeley after the first year to study medicine. She graduated from U.C. Medical School, but did not complete her internship.

She and Sheridan were married 28½ years ago. Sheridan, district engineer for the 12th Naval District, was transferred by the Navy to Boston, Mass., several years ago. When they returned, the Sheridans settled in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Sheridan was a member of the Marin County Chapter of the American Assn. of University Women and St. Sebastian's Women's Club.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a son, Philip M. Sheridan of San Rafael; two daughters, M. Kathleen Doolittle of Pinole, Contra Costa County, and Maureen C. Sheridan of Greenbrae, and two grandchildren.

Funeral cortege will gather at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow. Rosary will be recited at the mortuary at 8 p.m. today. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

IDA McLENNAN

FAMOUS RELIC—A thousand jewels cover this Russian icon which will be on display Dec. 7 in San Rafael's Nazareth House. The icon is 12½ inches high and 10 5/8 inches wide.

Jewel-Studded Icon To Be Seen In Marin

A jewel-studded icon, valued at $500,000, will be on display in San Rafael from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 7 at Nazareth House.

The Virgin of Kazan, sometimes called "the Black Virgin," was made more than 500 years ago. It came to light in Marin two weeks ago when its local guardians, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dorland, Mill Valley art conservators, had it locked up in the Mill Valley jail for safekeeping. It was later moved to the vault at Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Mill Valley.

The icon has been on a tour to raise money for its purchase by the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church of America. Owner is Miss Anna Mitchell-Hedges of England.

The icon, covered with 1,000 emeralds, diamonds, rubies, sapphires and pearls, was sold by the Bolsheviks in 1917 to raise money for the Russian revolution. The icon will not be returned to Russia until the nation is free of communism, say spokesmen for the purchasing church.

The church will enshrine the icon in San Francisco when purchase is completed.

The Dorlands had to jail the icon over a weekend after the British Broadcasting Co. announced where it was. The conservators had been trying to keep this secret. When the bank opened on Monday, the icon went from the jail to the vault.

After the showing at Nazareth House, the icon will be flown to Boston, Mass., for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception celebration in the Church of Our Lady of Kazan.

Sobieski May Resign Post

California's commissioner of corporations, John G. Sobieski, 57, of 66 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, is considering departure from the public post he has held since 1959 to enter private business.

Sobieski said today he has not made up his mind on the change, but has informed Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who appointed him, that he is considering it.

An attorney who has devoted his career to corporate law, Sobieski is a graduate of Stanford Law School.

Sobieski said, even if he should make the change, he hopes to continue living in Marin.

Fire Delays Dinner Slightly

Tally P. Mastrangelo and 26 of his guests had just sat down to their Thanksgiving dinner in Sausalito yesterday when firemen arrived to put out a fire in the roof the Mastrangelo apartment.

Firemen, one of them a volunteer who had also left his turkey dinner, put out the blaze, placed tarpaulins over the four-by-three foot hole in the asphalt shingle roof, and the 27 people continued their dinner.

The fire, discovered at 2:18 p.m., was believed to have been caused by sparks coming from the chimney of an apartment in the same building at 101 Third Street. Damage to Mastrangelo's roof at 105 Third Street was estimated at $800 to $1,000, Mastrangelo said.

Of the more than 6,000 new products displayed on supermarket shelves each year, only about 200 are accepted. At the end of a 12-months' sales display, only about half the number remain as products acceptable to the buying public.

Mixed Marriage Law In Church Challenged

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church laws against the validity of mixed marriages performed by non-Catholic clergymen were challenged yesterday by two prelates at the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Both Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne, Germany, and a Middle Eastern monk told the 2,200 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica that the law refusing to recognize marriage of a Catholic to a non-Catholic outside of a Catholic church should be scrapped in the interest of Christian unity.

Cardinal Frings, a leading European progressive, said the council should declare its disapproval of mixed marriages.

He added: "If the non-Catholic party feels it is against his conscience to promise to bring up his children in the Catholic faith, he is not to be subjected to pressure but should give up any idea of marriage to the Catholic."

The German prelate said it would be better still if "we declare the validity of mixed marriages contracted in the presence of a non-Catholic minister, and we should remove the ecclesiastical penalties for such marriages."

Under existing Catholic canon law, the non-Catholic partner is asked to promise to respect his or her spouse's Catholic faith and to bring up their children as Catholics.

The Rt. Rev. Hilaire Capucci, superior-general of the Basilian Melchite Priests of Aleppo, Syria, agreed that validity of a mixed marriage performed by a minister or Orthodox cleric should be recognized.

Speeding Charge

VENTURA (UPI) — Western singer Johnny Cash today faced charges of speeding in his new car and driving without an operator's license in his possession.

Officers who ticketed Cash yesterday said he led them on a six-mile chase at speeds of up to 90 miles an hour on the Ojai Freeway before they finally stopped him near his home at Casitas Springs.

Road Improvement Funds Still On Tap For County

Of the $140,400 in gasoline tax funds which the county will allocate to various cities in Marin for road improvements during this fiscal year, $59,650 still remains to be tapped, according to a report this week from Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The rest of the $140,400 has been appropriated as follows:

San Rafael gets $30,000 for Third Street extension; $31,750 for widening of a bridge on South Novato Boulevard in Novato; $4,000 for widening of Tamalpais Drive in Corte Madera, and $15,000 for improvement of Corte Madera Avenue in Corte Madera to the Mill Valley city limit.

The allocations are made each year under the urban thoroughfare program agreement made between the County of Marin and the cities.

During the past fiscal year, 1962-63, a total of $122,880 was allocated to the cities as follows:

San Anselmo got $72,985 for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard; Fairfax, $16,500 for widening Bolinas Avenue, and San Rafael, $33,395 for Third Street extension rights of way.

Can you name this car?

Here are some clues: (1) Its basketball-sized engine is air-cooled: doesn't need water or anti-freeze. (2) The engine is in the back, between the rear wheels. (Gives the car firm traction, handling and steering ease, quick response.) (3) It gets many more miles on regular gas than conventional cars; uses practically no oil between changes. (4) Its low-slung, racy-looking body was styled by a famous Italian designer — Ghia of Turin. (5) The car is built by an equally famous custom coachmaker—Karmann of Osnabrück. (6) Its engine and transmission and chassis are right out of the VW Sedan. (7) It's sold and serviced at your VW dealer's. (No $40 monthly tune-ups, no $100 carburetors.) (8) It's been referred to as "the most beautiful Volkswagen made." (9) Its initials read like an international cable code: VWKG.

JOHNSON FAMILY PORTRAIT

Europe Looks With Favor On Johnson

LONDON (UPI)—In its first stock-taking of President Lyndon B. Johnson, Europe has given him a thumbs up vote.

After the first shock over the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and even some panic, a mood of confidence that leadership of the Western Alliance remains in strong hands appears to have taken hold.

Only events and the manner in which Johnson deals with them can prove the final verdict of America's allies, but a survey of European capitals shows that at the outset Johnson has made a good impression.

Many of Europe's leading statesmen were able to make their first assessments of the new president when they went to Washington for the Kennedy funeral rites. Others base their hope in Johnson on what they have seen of him on his trips as vice president, and on his statements and speeches of the past week.

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home stated his own opinion of the suddenly-burdened Texan immediately on his return from Washington. The new president "greatly impressed all the visitors and observers in Washington," Home said. He expressed confidence the "finely held" checks and balances of international relations would not be disturbed by the change in American leadership.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, another visitor to Washington, was reported by his closest aides to have been greatly encouraged by his initial reactions to Johnson whom he found looking to the future and acutely aware of the problems of Germany and West Berlin.

In Communist-surrounded West Berlin itself, which Johnson visited on a morale-boosting mission shortly after erection of the communist wall in 1961, Mayor Willy Brandt said he knows the new president is as determined as his predecessor to stand by all commitments to the city. "Berliners can have the same confidence in Johnson they had in Kennedy," Brandt said. Popular opinion on Johnson in West Berlin was summed up by the newspaper Daily Morgenpost which said, "Berlin has lost a good friend, but a good friend has taken his place."

French President Charles de Gaulle, whose go-it-alone tactics in East-West relations and nuclear policies were a thorn in the side of the Kennedy administration, is not likely to be less a thorn for Johnson's administration. But persons close to the French leader report that in his first contact with the new president in Washington de Gaulle liked the measure of the man. Further French government opinion will await de Gaulle's formal visit to Washington next year.

The estate of Henry J. Billigmeier, retired insurance agent who died April 5, 1962, after seven years residence in Marin County, has been valued at $289,071.69, plus $51,150 worth of stocks in joint tenancy, according to a tax appraisal statement filed in Marin County Superior Court.

Billigmeier died at 79. He had lived at 100 Bayo Vista Way, but had spent most of his life in Glendale. He was a native of South Dakota.

The estate was divided equally among his children, Robert, H. Billigmeier, Santa Barbara; Dean A. Billigmeier, 18 Westwood Drive, San Rafael, and Dorothy Carol Weatherington, 597 Tarragon Drive, San Rafael.

The United States has granted California 8,825,000 acres of Federal lands for various purposes since the State's admission into the Union in 1850.

Monument Is Planned For Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has asked California architect John Carl Warnecke to help design a monument to mark the grave of the late president.

Warnecke said today that although he will design the monument, Mrs. Kennedy will exercise "very close direction."

The president's widow and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, took Warnecke to Arlington National Cemetery Wednesday evening to look over the site of the grave.

Warnecke said that no design has been agreed upon yet. Whatever the monument is, he said, it will have to be appropriate both to its setting and to the spirit of the late president. The grave is situated on a broad hillside, below the Custis-Lee mansion and overlooking the Washington skyline.

"One thing is obvious," Warnecke said, "it must be beautiful in its simplicity."

Warnecke, 44, of San Francisco, is a close friend of the Kennedys and had been named to the U.S. fine arts commission by the late president.

Dead Officer's Home Completed

TRUCKEE (AP) — California highway patrolman Glenn W. Carlton hadn't gotten very far in building his Sierra mountain home when he was shot to death Nov. 15 by fleeing bank robbers.

Thanksgiving Day, the widow of the 33-year-old officer stood in the bare living room of the nearly completed home and said, "You just don't realize how wonderful people can be until something like this happens."

Jane Carlson and her three children—age 7, 6 and 4—have been staying in a rented house while neighbors, friends and strangers pitched in with money, materials and labor to help finish the home.

GOP Senator Says Humphrey May Run

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. Peter H. Dominick (R-Colo) said last night that it "isn't necessarily true" that President Lyndon B. Johnson would be the Democratic standard bearer in 1964.

Dominick said that if Democrats turned away from Johnson they may turn to Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), a development which Dominick said he considered "a definite possibility."

Speaking on a television program, Dominick said that Humphrey's background, developed during the campaign of 1960, "will stand him in good stead if he decides to go this way.

"He has a different philosophy in many respects than President Johnson has. I don't know if they'll make a fight of it. But this is possible," Dominick added.

Turning to the question of Republican presidential possibilities, Dominick said he took former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan, at their words when they declared they were not candidates.

He said that Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania had also said he would not be a candidate but "I don't know how he's going to feel under the circumstances now. Maybe he'll change his mind."

Regarding Nelson A. Rockefeller, Dominick said he did not think that the New York's governor's chances had improved or decreased by President John F. Kennedy's death.

England's King James I appointed a "keeper of the king's otters" to look after the pack of tame aquatic mammals trained to catch fish for his table.

Marinite Leaves $459,140 Estate

Lyle M. Brown, who worked his way up from lineman to assistant to the general manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., left an estate valued at $459,140.78, according to a tax appraisal statement filed in Marin County Superior Court.

Brown, who died at 77 in San Francisco on Jan. 17, 1962, lived at 319 Goodhill Road, Kentfield. The bulk of his estate went to his wife, Josephine E. Brown, with $29,820.98 awarded to his sister, Elva E. Anderson, Sacramento.

Italian Students Strike Over Dress

VIAREGGIO, Italy (AP) — The 200 girl and boy students of a high school walked out on strike here because of a rule on how they must dress.

School authorities ordered that boys must wear jackets and ties and girls must wear black smocks that come below the knee.

Teachers Of English Urged To Help Slow Youngsters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There are millions of youngsters in school who can't keep up with their classmates, and English teachers were urged today to do something special for them.

Singled out for special attention were the slow learners, and youngsters living in the big city slums.

And criticisms of current practices ranged from "the never-never land" of first grade readers to grammar drills for students who have no idea what grammar is.

"Many common words used in the primers first readers might just as well be in a foreign language," Clarence Wachner of Detroit told the National Council of Teachers of English, convening here.

Wachner, in a prepared speech, said a Detroit study of basic readers revealed "educationally tragic inconsistencies."

Slum children, Wachner said, find little meaning in pictures and stories about proper middle-class families, well-kept streets, pleasant and substantial homes, and the portrayal of clothing, toys, games, and social attitudes.

He described a Detroit project to prepare textbooks which he called more realistic and meaningful.

"Streets are crowded, "Wachner said, "and houses are old, but well-kept. Some of the children in the stories are brown, some are white, and some are yellow."

He said children seemed to prefer these books over the traditional readers, and added: "The conclusion seems to be that first grade pupils are not race conscious; such prejudice develops later."

Wachner also said a phonetic approach to reading seems to produce good results "in culturally deprived areas where children hear only a regional dialect and sub-standard English."

Another Detroit educator, Ruth I. Golden of Northern High School, reported that tape recorders have been used successfully in that city to change the dialects of children whose parents bring them to Detroit from other parts of the country, particularly the South.

Dentist Dies In Plane Crash

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Sacramento dentist, flying to San Jose to join his wife for a Thanksgiving celebration, was killed yesterday as his light plane crashed through the roof of a furniture store.

A priest administered last rites to the victim E. L. Mathisen, 45, Fair Oaks.

Investigators said Mathisen may have lost control of the plane. A witness said he heard an engine sputter overhead and then saw the plane come down through the fog and hit the building. He said the plane appeared to attempt to miss the store.

Marin Ranch Operator Buys Bull For $54,000

George W. Wheelwright of the Green Gulch Ranch near Muir Beach and Eugene S. Selvage, owner and operator of the Lucky Hereford Ranch at Gilroy, have purchased the prize-winning Hereford bull, Vern Notability, Wheelwright said today.

The bull cost $54,000. Wheelwright said the object of getting an English Hereford is that England is where the Hereford breed originates and this type of animal produces a maximum of the most valuable cuts of meat.

The 750-acre Green Gulch Ranch specializes in a clear line of Herefords. About two years ago Wheelwright purchased another prize bull, Vern Mickie, which, the owner said, is now producing very promising calves.

Vern Notability and Vern Mickie are from the English farm, Vern, and raised by Capt. R. S. De Quincey, breeder. Notability is one of two 20th Century bulls that have won first in every show and was champion bull of England for the year 1963.

The government estimates the value of the cut timber will be over $875,000.

The unidentified hero vanished. The children range in age from six months to 11 years. They were treated at a hospital and released. Mrs. Rivera escaped with cuts and bruises.

Hopes He Never Sees Another Turkey

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — Charles Smith of Elizabeth doesn't care if he never sees another turkey.

Smith, 59, had six of them, weighing a total of 71 pounds —when police grabbed him Wednesday near a freight car. Sentenced to 40 days in jail, he arrived there in time for the traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Northgate Shopping Center's First Restaurant Is Opening

Northgate Shopping Center's first restaurant — Lin Fa Gardens, will open Sunday. Terra Linda residents have been watching it under construction for several months.

Owner Mrs. Ethel Barrie, now living in San Rafael, previously operated the Sai Wu Garden in the Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City but sold out four months ago to concentrate on the Marin establishment.

Lavishly decorated, Lin Fa Gardens will serve Chinese and American food seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. The cocktail lounge (Mai Tai Room) under the direction of Walter Choy, bar manager, has a volcano that "erupts" every hour on the hour. The dining room is heavy with red carpeting, gold trim and brass overhead lighting fixtures.

Prices seem to be quite reasonable both in the Chinese and American fare, lunch and dinner. A merchants lunch will be served.

A separate banquet room will seat up to 120 persons.

THE CAPRICE MENU is mostly in French, but if your vocabulary is inadequate there is no need to be embarrassed. You can find out all you need to know by asking the waitress —she's sure to be good-looking and give the right answers.

This is Kirby Atterbury's svelte little dinery, fastened in some form or manner to the rocks on the windward side below Paradise Drive, Tiburon. It's twice as big as it looks from the road, because it has a quaint downstairs cocktail den with portholes, a fabulous wine cellar arrangement —and a strolling guitarist on weekends.

Upstairs is replete with unblemished napery, a view window for every table, lounge and substantial-sized kitchen.

Kirby is chef as well as owner. He started out several years ago as a dilettante in cooking and parlayed his hobby into a profession, causing some of his critics who told him he was making a mistake to eat their words as well as his food.

As I say, Kirby's dinner menu is generally in French, and it has about six entrees. The prices are not exactly tourist class, so be prepared to dig deeply. Lunches are served Fridays and Sundays only, which leaves five other days during the week for special parties—ideal for groups of 25 to 50.

A place for other dilettantes, outside visitors and people with cultivated appetites. But good.

BLUE ROCK INN, Larkspur, will soon be open for lunches, says Bob Hosmer. The menu will include daily specials, wide choice of other items and fast service for business people. The present schedule calls for a kick-off Dec. 9. Lunch hours will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

WORD from Phyllis Mendoza of the new Casa Linda on San Rafael's Miracle Mile is that she and Carlos have engaged the Mariachi Trio for Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights until further notice. The operation is getting a little smoother here after a few "opening pains." (And what restaurant hasn't had them?).

NOT THE FIRST. I've been reminded by several readers that Franchini's Chateau did not originate the hockey bus idea from Marin to the Cow Palace. Tony's in Fairfax started it last year, they say, and will have it again this year.

IF YOU HAVE been nursing a dogeared copy of our 1963 Dining and Wining Guide that's about ready to go in the fireplace—hang on to it a few more weeks.

We'll have a new one for you during the latter part of January. More restaurants, new restaurants and up-to-date information.

WITH THE WISHBONES of Thanksgiving dinner barely picked clean, it seems early to start talking about Christmas, but we understand Sabella's of Marin will have Santa Claus and his reindeer on hand again this year. He will appear at Sabella's traditional children's Christmas dinner on Dec. 16. That's on a Monday night and the affair will go on television over Wanda Ramey's program on Channel 5.

Dinners that night start at 6:30, and with the experience of two previous years as a criterion, it will be wise to make advance reservations.

TOPPER'S STEAK HOUSE at Third and C Streets, San Rafael had a little delay in getting its equipment, but Cal White at our last check was hoping for tomorrow night as an opening time.

EDUCATION PROBLEMS

School Textbooks Touchy Subjects

(Fifth in a Series)
By Education News Service

With the touchy problem of multiple versus single adoption of school textbooks resolved by the 1963 Legislature, the State Board of Education will be casting about in the next year or so for ways of getting more book for the dollar.

It won't be an easy task. Just for a starter, it involves state board versus legislature control of the purchasing process.

Vesting more control in the state board would require elimination of some time-honored but board-detested formulas set up by the legislature.

Preliminary work on the problem has been started by a board's committee on textbooks, one of 10 groups set up to prepare a master plan of public education for California.

Board members who comprise the committee are Nathaniel Colley, chairman, Mrs. Seymour Mathiesen, and Dorman Commons. Ronald W. Cox, associate state superintendent and chief of the division of public school administration, serves as staff aide.

Complicating the book-purchasing procedure is the system of book selection by the curriculum commission and state board subject to the legislature's appropriation for purchase.

The curriculum commission makes its selections blind-folded as to price.

"We adopt texts on the basis of excellence without regard to price, but if the legislature then appropriates insufficient money to cover them we are faced with the very difficult task of untying our package and changing it," state board president Thomas W. Braden pointed out.

Legislative formulas limit the amount that can be paid for a text to 13 per cent above the cost of printing, royalties and sales tax for a competing book. However, the fact that two books are in competition does not necessarily mean they are comparable in size, cost of printing, or anything else.

Working price-blind, the curriculum commission has no way of knowing whether or not it is running afoul of the formulas. And if the state board adopts the commission's recommendation to get the best book, it takes the risk of having to revise its recommendations to the legislature.

Cox suggested that the legislature provide a lump sum for texts within which the board would have to stay.

Norris said this would have to include taking the price wraps off for the curriculum commission so that body could select on the basis of cost as well as other factors in order to stay within the appropriation.

Cox felt establishment of an elementary book fund with an automatic appropriation of a certain amount per student would make the state board financially responsible for, and in control of, the textbook expenditures. However, he cautioned that heavy annual growth in enrollments would complicate the process. Such a system, however, could lead to over-budgeting for books, he noted.

"It did so in the past and led to the present system in which the legislators inspect the books prior to appropriating funds for them. It also led to the formulas because the legislature wanted to assure that anyone spending state money would be in a position to regnize the costs as well as the merits of competing materials," he said.

Nearly 7 million students below college level will be attending private schools in the U.S. in the 1963-64 year.

More Money Appropriated For Heart, Cancer Study

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK—An additional appropriation of 1 million dollars for continuing and expanded research into lung cancer, heart disease and other health problems during 1964 was announced this week by Timothy V. Harnett, chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee.

The total fund made available for research so far is 7.25 million dollars. The new appropriation is an increase over the $800,000 provided annually. Hartnett said the new sum is to extend support in 1964 of the grants-in-aid program developed by the scientific advisory board for research into tobacco use and human health.

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, the research committee scientific director, said findings reported by scientists receiving grants from the scientific advisory board and from other granting agencies have shown the need for continued and greater research efforts to find the answers to lung cancer, heart disease and other complex ailments.

Police Give Aid, Make An Arrest

DENVER (UPI)—Two Denver policemen gave Andrew R. Maes, 19, a ride to jail after he asked them to give him a push in his stalled car.

They said when they explained they were not allowed to push his car with a city-owned vehicle, he began cursing them, so they checked him out and discovered he was wanted for questioning in a burglary case.

Firemen Hurt In Gas Blast

AVELLANEDA, Argentina (UPI)—A hut filled with gasoline-soaked wood as the basis for a bonfire marking the volunteer fire department's 66th anniversary blew up when the torch was applied.

The explosion scattered debris and asbestos-clad firemen like ninepins. Deputy Chief Ramon Lozano Perez, who had tried to light the fire, and six other persons were hospitalized.

Evidence found in the ashes of the hut, which burned down, indicate that the bonfire had been booby-trapped by concealing a bomb in the woodpile. The motive for the act was unknown.

It's Christmas Day At Postoffice Now

"It's Christmas Day at the postoffice from now on."

This is the slogan of postmasters who today urged early mailing of Christmas cards and gifts.

Postmaster throughout Marin County said "the entire Christmas mailing period is a big battle against time."

Postoffice facilities have been expanded, ample help is available and everything is geared to handle a record Christmas mail this year, the postmasters said.

"But early mailing is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas."

Postmasters also advised residents to:

1. Use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy wrapping paper and strong cord instead of mailing poorly wrapped packages. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents.

2. Send Christmas cards by first class mail, using the new five-cent Christmas tree stamps, and be sure your return name and address, including ZIP code number, is on each Christmas card envelope.

3. Before mailing cards, secure free labels from the postoffice which read "All for local delivery," and "All for out of town delivery" so cards can be sorted into two bundles, with addresses all facing one way, to expedite delivery.

4. Send all Christmas cards going long distances before Dec. 10 and follow up promptly with cards and gifts for local delivery.

5. Take special care in packing breakable gifts and mark the carton, "Fragile — handle with care."

6. Put an extra label carrying the recipient's and your name and address inside every package.

7. Be sure that mailing lists are up-to-date.

The postmasters also requested business firms to delay the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after Dec. 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

Disability Pay To Be Increased

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California workers covered by disability insurance will be eligible next year to receive maximum weekly benefits of $77 — a $2 increase from this year's maximum.

Director of Employment Albert B. Tieburg, in making the announcement, explained that workers this year will make an average of $115.68 a week, $3.61 a week more than last year's average.

At the same time, Tieburg said that unemployment insurance, toward which only employers contribute, will average about the same next year at 3.11 per cent.

Tieburg arrived at the new disability benefit figure by multiplying the new average wage by approximately two-thirds, the statutory fixed factor in determining a new rate.

There are 4,686,700 Californians eligible for disability insurance, which includes all workers covered by unemployment insurance and 368,700 agricultural workers.

Disability benefits are paid eligible workers unable to work because of off-job sickness or accidents. The present minimum weekly benefit is $25 a week.

Regarding unemployment insurance, Tieburg said that while the average employer contribution will remain about the same there will be revisions of individual contributors.

Computers are now determining how much each of the affected 353,000 California employers should pay, Tieburg said, adding that the amount is calculated on employer contributions in past years, and benefits paid out and charged to them.

The director said the new list of required contributions will be ready by about the middle of January.

By the end of this year, unemployment benefits totaling 487 million dollars will have been paid, including extended duration benefits, Tieburg said.

Cardinal Tells Kennedy Farewell To Infant Son

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing has described the late President John F. Kennedy's tearful farewell to his son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who died last August less than two days after his birth.

"I'll never forget the day we buried his little child from the chapel," the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston said yesterday.

"Jack was the last to leave the chapel. I followed him.

"The little casket containing the body was at the head of the aisle.

"Jack put his arms around the casket as if he wanted to carry it with him. Then the tears watered his cheeks."

The cardinal, a lifelong friend of the Kennedy family, officiated at Kennedy's funeral.

Woman Helps Wrong Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Anna Bosse came home from church yesterday and found a young man sitting on the couch with his shoes off and talking on the phone. He'd fixed himself a hamburger and was drinking beer.

Mrs. Bosse, 57, said he told her not to worry—he wasn't a burglar. He was just having trouble with his wife and had no place to go.

He then asked her to fix him a cup of coffee and after she brought it, he said everything had been patched up and he was going home.

Mrs. Bosse told police she gave him 50 cents for bus fare —and then discovered he had taken $3.50 from her purse while she was fixing the coffee.

Kenya, the British East African colony set for independence December, 1963, was named after its glacier-topped Mount Kenya. "Kenya" comes from the Bantu word "Kilinyaa," which means the "white mountain."

Hygiene Job Qualifications Are Listed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A special task force has issued a list of qualifications it seeks for the next director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

The group, headed by Dr. Edward Stainbrook, professor of psychiatry at the University of Southern California, said the $24,806-a-year post should be filled by someone who has:

1. At least three years' experience administering a broad mental health program.
2. Experience and success in working with legislative bodies.
3. Certification in psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.
4. Fellowship in the American Psychiatric Association.
5. The desire and ability to start new programs.

The job has been vacant since Dr. Daniel Lieberman resigned Oct. 2 in a policy dispute with the Brown administration.

Stainbrook said the task force hopes to find a new director by Jan. 1, when interim Director Dr. John G. Porterfield returns to his post at the University of California in Berkeley.

County Construction Reaches Record High

Construction in Marin County reached a record high for the month of October, according to the value of building permits issued last month, the Marin County Development Assn. reported today.

Strongest building activity was in the Novato area, with San Rafael and the Tiburon Peninsula following closely in amounts of construction.

Permits issued last month by city and county building inspectors were for a total $9,001,216 in construction, a 77.9 per cent increase over the previous October high of $5,059,124 in 1961. This year's October record brought the total value for the first 10 months of 1963 to $78,745,335, an increase of 34.6 per cent over the same period last month.

Novato's unincorporated area was issued permits for a value of $2,602,350 while the city reported $793,080, making a total for the area of $3,395,430. All but about $120,000 of the total was for new residential construction.

San Rafael permits amounted to $2,200,243, and the Tiburon Peninsula was in third place with construction valued at $1,329,050.

Included in the total permits for Marin last month were 281 single family dwellings, 11 duplexes and 22 apartment projects.

Wood Comes Back

11 Grandparents Await New Baby

SOUTH HILL, Va. (AP) — Eleven grandparents were waiting to hear the good news yesterday when a 7-pound, 14-ounce son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Compton II.

On his father's side of the family, the son has grandparents, great-grandparents, and a great-great-grandmother. On his mother's side, there are grandparents, great-grandparents, and great-great-grandparents.

Redwood High Picks Fitting Tribute To John Kennedy

Memorials to President John F. Kennedy range from a street in West Berlin to a tree on the campus of College of Marin. But we think the most fitting is that chosen by students of Redwood High School.

Student officers plan to ask the Tamalpais High School district board to name Redwood's new library building "John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Library." They also propose a special "Kennedy memorial shelf" in the library, to contain books about the presidency.

This seems a particularly fitting form of tribute since John F. Kennedy was the first American president to achieve prominence as a writer before he came into national notice as a politician.

He is best known for his Pulitzer prize-winning "Profiles in Courage," a book now on many lists of recommended reading.

But this was not his first book. "Why England Slept," a study of Great Britain in the period between World Wars I and II, was written while the future president was taking advanced studies at Harvard University. Publication was in 1940—before his heroism-marked service in World War II.

No Apology Given, None Needed

Supt. Bert C. Corona of San Rafael City Schools told critics Tuesday night that he had no apology to offer for closing schools early last Friday on hearing news of the assassination of the president.

He was right. The circumstances were met as they required, and we honor Corona for not mincing words or facts.

As he put it, "there was a true explosion in the hearts and minds of our teachers." The same unquestionably was true of the pupils as well.

That everyone was stunned, sick with horror, if he were human and in his right mind seems too obvious for any question. But after any event there is always somebody anxious to second-guess.

This newspaper has already expressed itself as in favor of all of us collecting ourselves as fast as possible, and honoring the memory of John F. Kennedy by hard, constructive work from now on. But what Corona was dealing with was in quite another category, and he was totally justified.

Thanksgiving's Colored Leaves

Those of Marin's trees which turn the traditional autumn colors usually reach their peak of fiery perfection around Thanksgiving.

Their patches of flame stand out among the evergreens in gardens and on the hills. They are fancied by some romantic people to be the ghosts of old Indian camps—their fires lingering in the annual autumn brilliance.

But one doesn't have to believe in ghosts to enjoy the fall pigmentation. It is here for everyone to appreciate.

'MEDICARE' HEARINGS ON

Record Of Kerr-Mills Program Becomes Center Of Debate

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — As the House Ways and Means Committee last week started hearings on the administration's medicare bill, the record of the Kerr-Mills program, enacted in 1960, was at the center of debate.

The proposal calls for compulsory health insurance for the aged, financed through the Social Security system.

The Kerr-Mills program is directed only to the needy aged, and is intended to provide health care for those financially unable to participate in private health insurance plans. Under Kerr-Mills the federal government on a sharing basis provides grants-in - aid to states with programs giving medical benefits for the needy aged.

WHILE the Social Security approach has been pressed by Northern Democrats, the Kerr-Mills program has received increasing support from Republicans and Southern Democrats who oppose Social Security financing.

The debate over Kerr-Mills involves chiefly its program of Medical Assistance for the Aged (MAA), through which Congress intended to extend aid to a new group of aged persons, in addition to those already receiving Old Age Assistance (OAA) payments.

MAA now applying in California went into effect Oct. 1, 1960, with participation optional for each state. Annual appropriations were authorized in sufficient sums to cover the program.

STATES are not required to spend at a fixed level; the federal government simply offers reimbursement for what the states spend, up to a certain amount.

The federal payments are thus intended as an incentive to the states to increase their own payments.

The states were to determine eligibility requirements, as well as the scope of care to be provided.

During August 1963, the 32 jurisdictions with MAA in effect made payments totaling $29,642,507 to 148,467 recipients — an average payment of $199.66 per recipient.

THE AVERAGE payment varied from state to state, ranging from $5.56 in Guam to $437.92 in Illinois. Last August it was $274.56 in California.

The total federal share was $15,141,258. The state share of these funds ranged from less than 0.05 per cent of the national total in Wyoming, Guam and the Virgin Islands, to 33.3 per cent in New York.

The Senate Special Aging Committee's Subcommittee on the Health of the Elderly issued a report on MAA last month. The majority agreed that, at best, MAA needed several substantial amendments to make it an adequate program.

The minority recognized some need for amendments but maintained that MAA was in most ways an adequate program. It said that the five states (California, New York, Massachusetts, Michigan and Pennsylvania) which the majority said were receiving a "lion's share of the funds" had 56 per cent of the over - 65 population "in states with MAA."

A 10-Year-Old On Kennedy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How I feel about President Kennedy.

When President Kennedy died Nov. 22, 1963, the world seemed as if it collapsed. He died in Dallas, Texas. When I found out I said it couldn't be true. I cried and cried.

It was terrible. It seemed as if I lost my best friend.

My father shook hands with him. My sister saw Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy. My mother talked with Mrs. Kennedy.

But me? I was in school then. Oh! I saw Mrs. Kennedy with my mother. I was so surprised to see Mrs. Kennedy I just stood there. I saw Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy come out of church.

I sure do miss him. I know, not another president can take care of the United States like he did!

Indignant Over The Water Situation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is a situation regarding water here in this valley which I believe merits a lot of publicity. It has been developing ever since the new plant was built along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard some two years ago.

I recently sent a letter to the Marin Muncipal Water District telling of our purchase of a new pump from Petaluma Pump Company. The former pump had been giving good service for many years, but it finally wore out. In February 1963 we had to pay the Petaluma Pump Co. $22.94 for repairs to the pump check valve because of sand and grit in the water going through it.

Similar work was done at the end of September 1963. This also was caused by sand and grit in the water, which ruined the check valve.

We had no choice but to put up with the filth the company sends us through the water pipes, but I do not intend to pay for repairs and damage caused by the miserable mud we get. I have asked the company to reimburse for the $22.94 which we paid last February. If the company cannot give us decent water it can at least pay for the physical damage it does to our equipment. The damage it does to our bodies cannot be estimated.

Before M.M.W.D. took over and built the new plant our water was excellent. So it is not that good water cannot be furnished, it is that the district will not furnish it. I wish they had to drink it.

To date this letter has been ignored. It was sent Nov. 9.

I should like also to mention the brown spots when we attempt to launder white clothes. Sometimes these will wash out, sometimes they will not.

Frequently we cannot use the ice cubes because they smell so badly that they ruin anything we put them in. Some time ago my daughter Mrs. Edward Tachet collected several glass jars of water and called the water company out to see the half inch of sediment in the bottom after they had been allowed to stand for a time. The company did get busy and clean out her line, but it did little good.

We are told the superintendent is putting in too much of some chemical in the water and that this is eating out the accumulated crud of years. We are also told that the situation will clarify itself in seven or eight years. But in the meantime we suffer. We feel they should either put in less chemical, or install new pipes.

Your reporter could undoubtedly get lots more information if he would just talk to a few people out here. We are not the only ones who are indignant about this situation.

Reasons For High Hospital Fees

Editor, Independent-Journal:

An article in your issue of Nov. 20 states that hospital costs for services other than room and board are higher at Marin General Hospital than at any of the other three hospitals in the county—higher by more than $6 per day in some cases. This clearly implies that Marin General charges more than the other hospitals for comparable services.

There are at least two reasons why charges may be higher without prices being higher. Marin General has available several medical services which are not available at the other three hospitals. Naturally, charges for these become part of the "daily other costs."

Another factor in the difference is that one hospital may have many patients requiring not much more than simple bed care, while another hospital may have mostly patients requiring extensive medical or surgical procedures.

Why do you not point out these facts along with the statistics you present? Do you have some reason for wishing your readers to draw wrong inferences?

Dogs And Children Require Attention

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Concerning a letter from Mrs. Laurence E. Wiard of Novato, headed "Looking For One Who Hit A Dog," I am wondering what kind of a person would permit a boxer puppy to be on the street at 7 p.m., where he could be hit?

Young dogs and children are the responsibility of their owners and their parents. Who was really at fault? The driver or the owner?

I am a careful driver who often has had to come to a full and sudden stop to avoid puppies allowed to play in the street. This is a hazard to (1) the puppy; (2) me; (3) anyone who might be driving behind me.

Keep the puppies off the street and they won't be hurt.

Johnson Seems Due To Do Well In Relations With Congress

WASHINGTON — The best answers I can give to questions being asked about the Johnson administration are these:

QUESTION — Will President Johnson be faced by the same stonewall resistance which Congress presented to so much of Mr. Kennedy's proposals, and will Mr. Johnson fare any better?

ANSWER — I think President Johnson may well fare better at the hands of Congress than President Kennedy did for these reasons:

1—There will be the usual political honeymoon which greets any new president. This honeymoon should last longer than usual, will almost certainly continue through most of the 1964 session, since the great majority of Democrats will not want to go into the campaign feuding with the president.

2 — The very circumstance by which Mr. Johnson comes to office — the assassination of the president — will somewhat mute partisan conflict. I do not mean it will turn opponents into supporters, but it will further a national unity which will be reflected in Congress for an appreciable period.

3—President Johnson's great talent for and knowledge of the legislative process may well enable him to implement the Kennedy-Johnson objectives better than Mr. Kennedy was able to do. An admirer of both remarked in conversation: "Mr. Kennedy had the 'know'; Mr. Johnson has the 'know how'; put these qualities together and things might get moving."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has a good chance of breaking the legislative log-jam.

QUESTION — What substance is there in the report that President Kennedy was planning on a different running-mate next year?

ANSWER—None.

It would be foolish to believe that the idea never entered Mr. Kennedy's mind. But it was never seriously considered because there was no good reason for doing it and many good reasons for not doing it.

IN ADDITION to Mr. Kennedy's public avowal at one of his last press conferences that Mr. Johnson would be the vice presidential nominee in 1964, I had private information which fully conformed to the public statement.

I had gone to one of the most trustworthy and knowledgeable sources in the administration—a source which, while sometimes refusing information, never once had misled me — who said: "You can write unequivocally that Lyndon will be renominated."

QUESTION—Now the only question is will he be nominated in his own right next summer?

ANSWER—He will. There is no doubt in my mind that President Johnson will be the undisputed leader of the Democratic party well before the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

IT WOULD be incredible for an incumbent president, even one who has acceded to office without election (unless he has been an egregious failure), not to be nominated to succeed himself. There are three precedents in this century: Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, and Harry Truman.

Admittedly all had longer periods of time in which to establish their prestige and party control.

But Lyndon Johnson was a potential presidential nominee in his own right. He has been an active and powerful figure in the Kennedy administration.

AS THE most successful Senate leader either party has had in modern times, Mr. Johnson almost singlehandedly created the Democratic political record on which Mr. Kennedy ran — plus his own promises.

I think we can dismiss all speculation that President Johnson will have any difficulty whatsoever about being nominated; that is, unless the Democratic left wants to split the Democratic party three ways instead of two and throw away all chances of winning.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Dum Dum Type Of Bullet Is Identified In Assassination

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—It was a dum - dum bullet that shattered the head and life of President John F. Kennedy.

That's what the Dallas doctors who attended him have told the FBI.

They stated the dum - dum bullet fragmented when it hit the president, shattering a portion of his head and neck.

Dallas police, who have confirmed this medical finding to the FBI, have matched bullet fragments removed from the president and the car he was riding in with the spent shells found in the warehouse.

THESE SHELLS definitely were fired from the rifle the suspected assassin bought from a mail order company.

Rep. Edwin Willis, (D-La.), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has sent veteran investigators to Dallas to dig into Lee Oswald's leftist background and trips to Russia and Mexico.

Fifteen days before he was shot down, President Kennedy was warned that assassins were being trained in Russia to commit murders in the U. S. and England.

This warning was voiced in a letter Rep. Charles Kirsten, (R-Milwaukee), sent to the late president and his brothers, Att. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Sen. Edward Kennedy, Mass. Kirsten knew the president for many years, having served with him on the House Labor Committee.

The Wisconsin legislator never received a reply to his warning from any of the Kennedys.

The burden of Kirsten's letter was an effort to obtain administration help in focusing public attention on the assassination of Stepan Bandera, the Ukrainian underground leader, by Communist agents. In urging this, Kirsten wrote:

"The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has been contemplating a hearing of the killing in Munich of the Ukrainian underground leader, Stepan Bandera, by the former Soviet agent Bogden Stashynsky. It was a bizarre assassination illustrating the subversive operations of the Soviet police in the free world. Apparently the State Department is trying to prevent the hearing.

"Stashynsky and his wife escaped to Western Germany in 1961. He was tried for murder in the German High Court at Karleruhe in November, 1962. I participated in the trial as counsel for Mrs. Bandera.

"THE FACTS of the case are unique. Stashynsky received intensive training as a KGS killer of anti-Communist leaders in the free world. At the trial, the assassin Stashynsky testified for four days, disclosing his amazing story of secret Soviet police operations in West Germany and Europe.

"Before his defection, Stashynsky was being trained for high-level killings in England and the U.S."

Marin County Has Parks, But Smaller Parks Are Needed

MARIN COUNTY needs more parks.

Such a statement might seem ludicrous after a brief look at statistics on the amount of park land in the county, compared to other counties in the area, or across the nation.

But the fact is that these parks serve a special group of people at a special time.

There are parks and there are parks. What Marin County needs badly are smaller parks, either for neighborhoods or for county residents generally, but not designed to serve the entire Bay Area, as are the local state parks.

STRANGE as it may seem, money is probably not the main reason Marin is falling behind on parks. Rather, the reason is probably the same as that which keeps many libraries in the county understaffed and with inadequate collections of books.

The problem is buck passing and lack of coordination. The libraries have taken some steps to coordinate their activities, and the result may be better libraries sooner than we see better local parks.

In the future, virtually all local parks will be tied, physically, to the schools. Schools are accessible and are on large parcels of land, much of which is not in use most of the time. But school districts are jealous of their control over their property and programs. They are touchy about interference.

PARK and recreation districts have been trying valiantly to fill the gap in several large subdivision areas, where many homes are built and not even a vacant lot is left. A quarter acre lot may be too big for poor gardeners, but it's too small for a baseball game.

Cities and the county have, perhaps, been more effective than special districts, partly since they have other sources of revenue than the property tax. But the cities are also far below standard.

One minimum recommended by a national association concerned with parks is one acre of park for each 100 residents. Of course, that standard includes all types of parks, from the tot lot to the regional park.

BUT A standard of one acre per 400 residents shouldn't be unreasonable for city and neighborhood parks, the type most needed.

One California county has recently received nationwide praise for a scheme to update and improve libraries. The scheme was successful largely because it was a unique blend of local and county action, unifying administration but still maintaining local control and interest.

The libraries of the county were run down and too small. The collections were obsolete. But, luckily, all the libraries, except those of one large city, were under county control, whether inside or out of cities.

THE COUNTY made a deal with the people: You build the libraries and the county will raise money for staff and stacks. Six large new libraries were built in five years.

In some cases special districts or county service areas were set up to finance buildings. In others a city chipped in the money. In one case the job was done by private subscription.

Couldn't the same be done for parks? First, centralized administration would be needed, and school cooperation would have to be sought. But local control over programs need not be lost.

Acquisition costs would remain at the community level, but all would share operation costs. Those without parks would have an incentive to hurry to buy land and develop facilities. Fewer would complain of the cost.

Just Having TV Turned On Isn't Proof That It's Been Seen

WASHINGTON— We have these friends we'll call the Shaws. The Shaws do not have television.

They claim they don't miss it and they get a lot of reading done and listen to records and besides it's a great conversation piece when they go out to dinner to say they don't own a television set.

But they have a housekeeper and naturally they had to provide her with a television set or she would have left long ago. The Shaws used to hear great giggling and laughter from their housekeeper's room and they assumed she got a lot of enjoyment out of her set.

BUT one night the phone rang and the lady on the other end said she was taking a survey and wanted to know what TV program they were watching.

"We don't have a set," Mrs. Shaw said.

"You mean there isn't a set in your entire house?"

Mrs. Shaw started to feel slightly guilty. "Well, my housekeeper has a set."

"What is she watching?"

"I don't really know," Mrs. Shaw said.

"Would you please find out for me?"

MRS. SHAW told Mr. Shaw to go back to the housekeeper's room and find out what Beatrice was watching.

Mr. Shaw returned in a few moments.

"She's not exactly watching anything."

"But the set is on," Mrs. Shaw said. "I can hear it."

"Yes, that's true," said Mr. Shaw.

"What are you so mysterious about?"

"I think her boy friend is with her," Mr. Shaw said.

"Did you ask her what she was watching?" Mrs. Shaw said.

"I didn't have the heart to. When I opened the door the room was kind of dark and Beatrice was giggling and laughing. So I just shut the door again."

"I BETTER go and see what is going on," Mrs. Shaw said. "Here, you speak to the lady on the phone."

The lady on the phone demanded, "Have you found out what program your maid is watching?"

"We're not sure," Mr. Shaw said honestly. "As a matter of fact, we're not sure she ever has watched anything on television."

"BUT SURELY you must know the name of the program."

Mr. Shaw was starting to become annoyed with the lady.

"Madam, we're trying to give you an honest answer. I believe these audience surveys are very important and I would hate to give you misinformation. This much I can tell you. The set is on, the maid is in the room, but when I was there she wasn't looking at it."

"What was she doing?"

"Madam, that is not part of your survey. You're only supposed to ask about television problems. Now if you will kindly wait, perhaps my wife will have a bulletin for us."

Mrs. Shaw returned.

"WHAT'S she watching?" Mr. Shaw wanted to know.

"She's watching her boy friend leave," Mrs. Shaw said angrily.

Mr. Shaw repeated on the phone, "Our maid is watching her boy friend leave."

"I don't believe there is such a show," the lady said.

"Well, come on over to our house," Mr. Shaw said, "and see for yourself."

Marin MAGAZINE

Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

In the past, the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine has carried photo stories about dog breeds both familiar and unfamiliar. Tomorrow, it features one of the lesser-known but fascinating dogs — the Silky Terrier from Australia. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown has written about the little silkies, and about a Marin couple who own some of that breed's greatest champions.

The story of the Tiburon Peninsula Club is also the story of a determined band of Southern Marin residents who refused to be discouraged by obstacles and adversity. In tomorrow's I-J magazine, reporter Corena Green tells that story. You'll learn how today's fine recreational facilities were realized only through a combination of coincidence and perserverance.

There's no scarcity of music talent among Marin's young people., Which makes all the more puzzling to Tamalpais Union High School District music teachers the failure of their programs to attract larger enrollments. Those teachers are determined to remedy that situation and have launched a study into the problem. The Marin Magazine reports on music in the Tam District tomorrow.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

There are times when you should get up from the bridge table and walk around a bit, breaking furniture as you walk. I recommend it.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

Take this kind of hand, for example. West leads the queen of clubs, and you put down the North hand as the dummy. Stay in your seat for a while.

RUFFS CLUB

Your partner ruffs the first club in dummy, leads a trump to the ace, and leads another club.

Now it is time to get up from the table and get your exercise. If the furniture is too solid, go out into the street and pick a fight with somebody.

Your partner is obviously playing the hand badly. Without even looking at her hand you know that it must be better to develop the diamonds than to go after club ruffs.

HER HAND

How do I know that it's "her" hand rather than "his" hand? Suit yourself, but this hand was not exactly picked at random.

When you return to the table you discover that your partner has gone down to inglorious defeat.

South ruffed three clubs in dummy and discarded the fourth club on the king of spades. But then she had to give up two diamond tricks.

CORRECT LINE

This is your cue to explain the correct line of play, thus developing your lung power.

South should ruff the first club in dummy, draw two trumps, cash the ace of spades and lead a diamond. East can take the ace of diamonds and force dummy to ruff a club, but this doesn't hurt. Declarer discards a diamond on dummy's king of spades, cashes the king of diamonds, and ruffs a diamond. Then the rest of dummy is good.

Be sure to keep a few flimsy chairs in the house so that you have something to work on when hands like this come up.

QUESTION

Partner deals and bids one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 10 9 8 7 4 2

♣ 6 2

What do you say?

Answer:

Bid two hearts. You have only 1 point in high cards, but should count about 4 additional points for your short suits. Be satisfied to raise the hearts; you cannot also afford to show the spades.

'Big Game' Rated A Tossup; Wide Open Duel Expected

A wide-open, high-scoring 66th Big Game is expected to unfold before more than 80,000 fans tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. when Stanford and California clash with little more than pride at stake at Stanford stadium.

California passing star Craig Morton faces Stanford pass-run halfback Steve Thurlow in what nearly every observer expects to be a toss-up game.

The death of President Kennedy caused a one-week postponement which helped Stanford's offense and Cal's line to regain the peak of health.

The Bears, 4-4-1, are after their first winning season since 1958 and the first since Marv Levy began coaching at Cal. Stanford, 2-7, has been outclassed in only two losses but has been plagued by fumbles and interceptions.

Morton, the All-Coast quarterback, has thrown for 14 touchdowns, including five in one game. He gained 1,355 yards on 93 pass completions in 189 attempts.

Thurlow, fully recovered from a thigh injury, is Stanford's total offense leader with 371 yards rushing and 161 passing on option plays.

The supporting cast on offense is headed by Dick Ragsdale of Stanford and Tom Blanchfield of California. Each is a high-average rusher who can also catch passes, run back kicks and play well defensively.

Stanford will have last year's big game hero, senior quarterback Clark Weaver, available for part-time duty. He underwent a knee operation early in the season and again is workingout, though his mobility isn't good.

The delay helped Cal mainly at tackle, where starters Roger Foster and Jim Anderson will be in better shape than they were a week ago.

California leads the series 28-27-10 but Stanford has won the past two games. As a player and assistant coach at Cal, Stanford Coach John Ralston was 5-1-1. This is his first effort from the other side of the field.

RAIDERS STILL HAVE VISIONS OF TITLE AFTER YESTERDAY'S WIN

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Oakland Raiders still had visions of an American Football League championship in their heads today following a 26-10 Thanksgiving Day win over Denver's victory-starved Broncos.

The Raiders, with a 7-4 record, good for second place in the AFL's Western Division behind San Diego, will be pulling for Houston Sunday when the Eastern Division leaders play the Chargers at San Diego. If the Chargers lose Sunday and then fall to the Raiders the following week, the two teams will be tied for the Western Division lead.

Oakland strengthened its already strong hold on second place in the division with yesterday's win over Denver as the Raiders' star running back, Clem Daniels, tore up the Broncos' defense for 90 yards in 16 carries. The loss pushed Denver deeper into the league cellar.

Denver and Oakland both will be idle Sunday. In other games, Buffalo plays at Boston and New York is at Kansas City. If Houston loses to San Diego, the winner of the Boston-Buffalo game will tie the Oilers for first place in the Eastern Division.

Denver managed a 3-2 halftime lead over the Raiders yesterday on a fine 52-yard field goal by Gene Mingo. But Oakland came alive with two touchdowns in the third quarter and scored 10 more points in the final period to take the win.

The Raiders capitalized on a pass interception by Tom Morrow to score their first TD. Quarterback Cotton Davidson threw a 35-yard pass to Bo Roberson on the four and Roberson went over to put Oakland ahead 8-3 early in the third quarter.

Oakland's other touchdowns came on a Denver fumble picked up by Oakland's Jon Jelacic, who ran across from the 19, and on a plunge by Glenn Shaw which followed a long run by Alan Miller.

Chicago Hurler Is A.L.'s Top Rookie

BOSTON (UPI) — Southpaw Gary Peters, who had missed major league baseball's brass ring in four earlier trials with the White Sox, today was named the American League Rookie of the Year for 1963.

The 26-year-old Chicago pitcher who had never pitched enough to attain major league status during his first four bids, racked up a 19-8 record last season to beat out teammate Pete Ward for the rookie honor.

Results of balloting by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America announced here by the national secretary Hy Hurwitz showed Peters the winner on 10 of the 20 ballots.

SIX FOR WARD

Third baseman Ward collected six of the remaining votes while Minnesota slugger Jimmie Hall got the other four.

Informed of the award at Sarasota, Fla., Peters said he thought Ward would get it.

"I had an idea it would be close but I thought Pete would win it because he played every day and I didn't," Peters said.

"Naturally, I'm real pleased to win the award," he added. "This helps take some of the disappointment out of my not winning that 20th game."

SNAPS RECORD

Peters broke one of the records set by another southpaw, Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, by winning 11 straight during his freshman season. Ford had tied an American League mark for consecutive victories by a rookie pitcher when he won nine straight in 1950, a mark first set by reliever Joe Pate of the Athletics in 1926.

Peters, who has been in the White Sox chain since 1956, racked up the American's League's best earned run average for regular pitchers with a 2.33 mark.

SEALS WILL OPEN SERIES WITH BUCKS

Portland's Buckaroos hope for vengeance tonight at 8:30 when they open their three-game series against the San Francisco Seals at the Cow Palace—after losing two and tying one on Portland home ice.

It will be the first look at Portland for San Francisco fans.

The Buckaroos, who actually won last year's season play but lost out to the Seals in the playoffs, has a 6-10-3 record. The Seals, in fourth place in the Western Hockey League, sports a 9-9-2 season tally. They play again tomorrow and Tuesday.

Redwood Romps In Turkey Bowl Game

By JIM GILMARTIN

Redwood Junior Giants, the Chicago Bears of Pop Warner Conference football, displayed a multi-talented halfback named Kenny Johnson and a tenacious defense yesterday to subdue the East San Diego Golden Irish 20-0 in the first annual Turkey Bowl game at Kentfield.

An estimated crowd of 850 persons watched on a crisp, clear Thanksgiving Day morning as the 14-year-old Johnson showed signs of future greatness by dashing 35 yards to the first touchdown, passed to the two other scores on "bombs" that went for 42 and 62 yards and kicked two extra points with the ability few high school athletes possess.

In all, the eighth grade student from Larkspur-Corte Madera School worked up quite a turkey and all the trimmings appetite. From his tailback position in the single wing attack, Kenny carried the ball 11 times for a net of 70 yards and passed four times for 107 yards, two going the distance. The two incomplete passes were dropped by his receivers; one certainly would have gone for another touchdown.

In winning their eighth game of the season without a loss, the Giants took a 7-0 first quarter lead, increased it to 13.0 in the third stanza and added the dessert in the fourth period for the final 20-0 count.

During that time the Redwood defense, which has yielded eight opponents a total of 18 points all year, smothered the San Diego champions' T-formation. Four of the visitors' eight passes were intercepted by Steve Bigelow, Andy Stitch, Pete Carroll and Steve Sheckle. Two of the interceptions lead to touchdowns.

San Diego's deepest penetration was to the Redwood 12 in the second period as the Golden Irish threatened to tie it up, but Stitch's interception killed the drive.

Redwood's first touchdown came near the end of the first quarter after Bigelow intercepted a pass on the Redwood 38. Wingback Joe Murphy, another bright star of the day, took a reverse from Johnson and raced 27 yards to the San Diego 35. On the very next play, Johnson skirted right end, got a sensational block from quarterback Mike Hall, and dashed down the sidelines to the end zone. He scored his seventh point by kicking the ball high and far over the crossbars, 7-0.

After a scoreless second period, Redwood pulled farther ahead in the third stanza on a 67-yard drive in 9 plays. The touchdown play was a 42-yard pass from the accurate Johnson to end C.T. Edmondson who, thus, more than made up for the two passes he dropped earlier in the drive. Johnson's PAT placement was blocked, 13-0.

Carroll set up the final score early in the fourth period when he made a diving interception of a pass thrown by San Diego's outstanding Bill Robell and deflected by Redwood's Joe Murphy.

With the ball on their own 35, the Giants called on their "Murphy-Go-For-Broke-Special" play in which wingback Murphy, a speedy 5-foot-8 youth, races far downfield and Johnson throws for all he's worth. Murphy was far behind the San Diego safety man and Johnson hit the target for a sensational 65-yard TD pass. Kenny then kicked the extra point for the final 20-0.

Redwood coach John Pagliaro praised his entire squad for what he called "a truly great team effort." On defense he cited linebackers Duke Herrero and Rebel Minutoli, and Jim Scoville and backs Bill Sather and Pete Carroll. On offense, singled out by the coach were Johnson and Murphy along with end C. T. Edmondson, tackles Charles Keppel and Andy Stitch, guard Jim Murk and center Jeff Ashley.

The teams will be feted at a banquet tonight, 7 o'clock at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

ALL WANT IT, NONE GET IT

Everybody wants this pass but nobody catches it during the second quarter of yesterday's game between Texas and Texas A. & M. The pass was intended for Texas end Ben House (right) but was broken up by A. & M. defensive backs George Hargett (23) and Jim Keller (12). Texas scored a come-from-behind 15-13 victory and completed its season with an untied, unbeaten record. The record included a 7-0 Southwest Conference mark, good for the championship. The Longhorns from Texas have been judged the top team of the nation. (AP Wirephoto)

Packers, Detroit Battle To Tie

DETROIT (AP)—Mighty Green Bay needs help from three other Western Division clubs in order to get a crack at its third National Football League championship.

Yesterday, the Packers slipped a full game behind Chicago, the division leader, when the Detroit Lions tied them in the waning seconds 13-13 in their annual Thanksgiving Day battle.

Compounding Green Bay's problems is an injury suffered by linebacker Ray Nitschke. He said he broke a bone in his right forearm in the fourth quarter of the game and won't see any more action this season.

"Win or tie, we still have to depend on someone else to beat Chicago," said Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi.

The Packers, now 9-2-1, meet Los Angeles and San Francisco in their final two games. Chicago, at 9-1-1, faces Minnesota, San Francisco and Detroit on its home field.

The Bears take on the Vikings Sunday. In other NFL games Baltimore is at Washington, Cleveland at St. Louis, Los Angeles at San Francisco, New York at Dallas and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.

The Packers' latest jolt came with 16 seconds remaining in yesterday's game. Detroit fullback Nick Pietrosante leaped into the end zone from less than a yard out and Wayne Walker added the extra point that tied the score.

Walker also booted two first-half field goals.

Practically all of the action was crammed into the game's final 10 minutes as the Packers went ahead 13-6 on a seven-yard pass from Bart Starr to Ron Kramer to end a 61-yard drive.

The Lions roared back as Earl Morrall directed the final scoring drive. A pass interference penalty against Green Bay's Jesse Whittenton gave the Lions the ball on the two, but they needed four cracks at the line to score after a penalty put he ball back on the seven.

49rs Get Ready For L.A. Ram Tilt Sunday

Coach Jack Christiansen ordained a day of rest for his San Francisco 49ers yesterday to give them a chance to celebrate Thanksgiving.

Today the 49ers renew their preparation for Sunday's game against the incoming Los Angeles Rams at Kezar Stadium.

The Rams will be out to take their third straight game from their northern rivals after beating the 49ers 17-0 in an exhibition affair and 28-21 in their first league encounter.

The last time either California team swept all three contests occurred in 1950 when the Rams took all the marbles.

Yesterday's off day was expected to aid defensive back Elbert Kimbrough and guard Mik Magac in their recovery from injuries.

1963 Is Silver Anniversary For Kiekhaefer Mercury Corporation

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

There are no bad outboards produced today. A "lemon" now and then, as in everything made, but no truly incompetent motors. At least not in today's field of big-name manufacturers.

Some seem a bit more noisy than others. Some produce greater speed. There are brands that claim more economy; and manufacturers who claim their product has a modicum of edge for tireless dependability in their motors.

Yet they may all claim specialty honors, reflecting the step-by-step and year-by-year progress in outboard design and related engineering.

THIS IS the year of Kiekhaefer Mercury Corporation's Silver Anniversary. Its 25th year of dedicated research and development. Mercury's saga lifts the record from the abstract to something warmly understandable. In the beginning Carl Kiekhaefer bought the dubious assets of an exceedingly defunct outboard motor plant in Cedarburg, Wis. This purchase included literally hundreds of rejected motors. Now, this was the tyep of challenge that particularly appealed to this man who was already a successful chief engineer for a large company. He had designed machines for processing ores and refining metals. Moreover, he was a mineralogist, an authority on ore concentration, and an experienced designer of electrical machines, magnetic brakes and clutches, heavy industrial equipment and machine tools. Basically though, he was a designer-inventor (holding more than 200 patents) and he had a practical head for business.

And so the Kiekhaefer Corporation of the Mercury outboard motor was founded, launching a modest start of a new era in boating. The new plant swung into action. All the rejected predecessors of the first Mercury outboards were rebuilt — and improved. In fact, they proved so dependable that orders piled in for more. Following this, the first new Mercurys made their debut at the 1940 New York Boat Show, previewing many of the brand new engineering features that were later adopted in various degrees by other outboard manufacturers.

During the war years the Kiekhaefer Corporation engineered and produced lightweight engines for military chain saws, pumps, compressors, generators, hoists, and target aircraft.

CAME 1947, and Mercury 10 h.p. "Lightning" made a smashing impact on the marine industry. It had endurance and fuel economy, and the speed of it became almost legendary.

Later, military research convinced Kiekhaefer engineers of the superiority of the in-line engine design. Work on this concept started in 1954, continuing until Mercury introduced the first six-cylinder, two-cycle outboard in 1957 — a 60 h.p. Mark 75. The following year, this model set a new official world's outboard record, which returned the title to the United States for the first time since 1937 — a trophyless interim of 21 years. As a matter of record and understandable pride, this official record is still held by Mercury.

Mercury's first six-cylinder inline 80 h.p. outboard was completed in 1960. Two years later, all Mercs, from 10 to 80 h.p., featured the exclusive Jet-Prop exhaust system. A design projected toward more efficient and quiet operation.

THE KIEKHAEFER Corporation then merged with the Brunswick Corporation, one of the world leaders in recreational products. Merc built the first 100 h.p. outboard motor this same year, 1962!

Today they offer two-cycle outboards from 6 to 100 h.p., and four-cycle MerCruiser Stern Drive Power Packages from 110 to 310. Winners of the 1963 Miami-Nassau Power Boat Race, they have set new records for speed and stamina.

Yes indeed. It's been a long climb since those 1937 rejects that so closely resembled mom's egg beater. But somewhere along the line the Merc gained stature. Today's 100 h.p. Merc 1000 looms with almost skyscraper magnificance.

San Jose '11' Will Tangle With Pacific

SAN JOSE (AP) — Underdog University of the Pacific seeks its second straight victory—and second of the year—tomorrow when it takes on a San Jose State team looking for a break-even season.

Pacific's Tigers lost seven straight games by more than two touchdowns each before they pounced on equally-hapless Brigham Young for a 14-0 decision two weeks ago.

San Jose has rolled through the air to a 4-5 record that includes upsets over Oregon and Washington State.

The traditional meeting was postponed from last Saturday because of the death of President Kennedy.

Pacific has depended mainly on the running of Cameron Doyel, Chris Machado and Eddie Simas for its offense. But the leaky defense gave up more than 30 points per game through the loss string.

San Jose's Rand Carter and Ken Berry have combined a throw for nearly 200 yards a game while broken field speedster Walt Roberts is the mainstay of the Spartan ground attack.

About 15,000 are expected for San Jose's season closer. Pacific plays at the University of Hawaii Dec. 6.

PROMISING SQUAD

Tar Cagers Open Schedule Tonight

Marin County fans will get their first look at the College of Marin basketball Tars this weekend when a large and spirited squad opens the 1963-64 season in a two-game set.

Twenty-one hopefuls will begin pre-conference play against Diablo Valley College at Pacheco tonight, then return to Marin to host San Mateo College at the Drake High gym tomorrow. Both games will start at 8 p.m.

In pitting his Mariners against Diablo and San Mateo, head coach Cal Riemcke continues his policy of starting the Mariners against the toughest competition he can find.

The large crop includes veterans Pete Bardea (6-4) and Rich Abbott (6-3) at center, and Bill Hodgson (6-3), Brad Busch (6-2) and Bill Wallace (6-5) at forward.

Outstanding newcomers in the battle for starting spots include Jay Johnson (6-1), all-Northern California prep at Redwood and fifth highest scorer in Northern California in 1962; Ron O'Connell, (5-11), All-Marin Athletic League selection and winner of the outstanding athlete award from Marin Catholic, guard; Bruce Wold (5-7), slick playmaker from San Rafael High, guard; and Paul Gockel (6-0), most inspirational player at Marin Catholic in 1962, forward.

Other promising hopefuls include Bill Berry (6-3), center for the Hamilton Air Force Base team last year; Jeff Chapman (6-0), guard for Terra Linda High last year; Bruce Ketron (6-3), center and forward; Dennis Langhoff (6-0), forward from Tamalpais; Mike Morse (6-3), center and forward from Terra Linda High; Dick Ristine (6-4), forward from Page High in Arizona; Hap Curley (6-0), guard from Drake; James Dalton (6-0), forward and most valuable player for Terra Linda last year; Norm Freeman (6-1), guard from Dunn School in Santa Barbara; Pat Glynn (5-10), all-state selection from Manchester, Iowa, in 1962, guard; and Scott Smith (5-10), transfer from Pacific University, Oregon, guard.

On the basis of what he has seen so far, Riemcke expects to have a well-balanced shooting attack from a nucleus of four players. "Our strongest point is shooting ability, our weakest, at least at this time, is defense," said Riemcke.

Light Heavies Meet Tonight In TV Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—A $50 fighter 11 months ago, undefeated, young Johnny Persol of Brooklyn will earn $4,000 and get a chance to crack the big time tonight when he meets 4-1 favored Allen Thomas of Chicago at Madison Square Garden.

Persol gained his chance for the Garden and television 10-rounder when the New York State Athletic Commission's physicians barred Mauro Mina because the Peruvian had undergone an operation for a detached retina of the left eye.

Persol, a 22-year-old shipping clerk, who has been a pro only since Jan. 5, has won all of nine of his pro starts, including three by knockouts.

Thomas, however, has far more experience and skill and should spoil the kid's debut as a Garden and television main eventer in the 10-rounder. Thomas, ranked ninth among the light heavyweight contenders by the WBA, has a 19-2-1 record, including 11 knockouts.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV (Channel 7). Starting time is 10 p.m. (PST).

Inverness Area Produces Limits Of Stripers For Many Anglers

STEVENS

Talk about a population explosion. Stop in at the Golden Hinde resort at Inverness and talk with Davis Campbell. He will attest that it can happen. Avid anglers exploded all over his place over Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A flock of eager anglers couldn't be accommodated and Davis laments the fact a great deal. Therefore I repeat the suggestion I made in a former write-up: Phone the Golden Hinde to get the lowdown before leaving home and hearth.

Considering the number of nice stripers taken over the three days, or even on any one of the three days, it is no wonder that space to toss out a baited hook was at a premium. I haven't the space to list them all but here are a few authentic reports: On Sunday eight boats landed 36 bass, most of them large ones to 20 pounds; the Matthew twins made the grade, Jack Bones and wife with R. C. Chose limited to 23 pounds, Harold Delura took three bass to 14 pounds on Sunday and three on Monday to 22 pounds; Bill Carlton landed a 23-pounder on Sunday, W. Matthews took two to 16 poundh on Sunday, 11-year-old Steve Schneider took a 15-pounder the same day that Kay Schneider limited to 16 pounds, Mel Treanor landed his three to 17 pounds, Pete Valconesa limited to 10 pounds, George Viera's limit went to 12 pounds, R. C. Staight had a pair of stripers to 18 pounds, and Larry Benton had his limit to 20 pounds by 10 a.m.; Bill Latham boated one 22-pounder, a 24, and a 28-pounder; the boys from the Butler Fly and Tackle Shop landed 18 beautiful bass and Joe Mello now leads the fishing derby with a monster of 35 pounds, 6 ounces.

AS IS always the case, there were a few participants who didn't register. Mainly because they quit fishing too soon. Campbell told me that practically all the fish were taken from about 6 p.m. on. "Please tell your readers, Ralph, to be prepared to stay late or stay home," he added.

Another area where fishing was hot and heavy was Richardson Bay. And here also, the time of day seems to govern the returns. The herring are in Richardson Bay, and when the birds are working it is comparatively easy to fill out a limit of nice stripers. When the birds quit diving, the wise guys are leaving the area and trolling in the Racoon Strait.

Fishing is good to excellent on both sides of the San Pablo Bay, also. Mainly on bait with the lads using bullheads (preferably alive, but otherwise frozen) landing the larger fish.

Sir Walter Was No Sissy

It can never come to pass that an act of courtesy will label a man soft or weak. Fashionable though rugged individualism may be in widening circles, rudeness, overt or passive, does little to enhance the image of a boor. The perceptive and sophisticated yawn at the antics of the egotist who would elbow his way to center stage.

Yet, we are confronted constantly with the unfeeling specimen, whose bad manners jar our sensitivities. He bulls his way to the head of the line. He interrupts an animated conversation with his banal pronouncements entirely foreign to the subject under discussion, and is completely oblivious to the irritation apparent to everyone else.

He talks too loudly—always, as if in mortal fear some syllable will pass unheard. He spews forth a steady stream of profanity, in mistaken belief he is clever and in vogue with the spawning school of paperback "authors", whose command of our language are likewise restricted. His temper is short, and fused, and why not? Attention is assured with each apparently unrehearsed explosion. This creep can be seen berating the waitress for a steak grilled a smidgen too long by the chef who is almost a total stranger to her. The young bank teller, abused to the point of tears for a clerical error made by a substitute bookkeeper distracted by her own set of problems, gives this Darwinian throwback an exhilarating sense of achievement. His drive for personal power finds some measure of fulfillment in maintaining his perfect record of never giving way in a traffic situation.

He's the first to honk the horn, the last to stop at the signal, making it by straddling the crosswalk, the first to gripe, the last to cheer. He has no capacity to grieve for misfortunes other than his own. There is no end to the bitterness of this man, and yet, he gives the impression of being a man with a purpose, a thoroughly self-assured man.

He may be. But, this is not for me. I find no compulsion to apologize for a feeling of compassion for others. I see no incompatability between consideration and the pursuit of the buck. I find large measures of satisfaction, my brand of satisfaction, in working with Doug Cowan and some 50 (not-odd) others who feel as I do, basically. Please don't get me wrong. We at Ames Ford are not a special band of do-gooders, unique in any way. I didn't think for a moment anyone had that impression, really. We're all here for one basic reason—to make a living. But, there is one particular facet in this reason which gives me pleasure: no inclination to reach our goals dishonestly is apparent.

A visitor to Ames Ford today will find a friendly, "kookie", even carnival atmosphere —yes. But, he will also find a spirit of genuine interest in his desires. He will not find arrogance, disinterest, discourtesy, or high pressure tactics, to name but a few of the more obvious examples of bad manners that have given many a potential car-buyer pause.

I have found satisfaction can be assured with a far greater degree of certainty when discussions are carried on in well-modulated tones. Nothing is more reassuring to a customer with a problem or a complaint than a willing ear, a responsive attitude, and a genuine display of interest and concern. And, nothing is more devastating than disinterest or antagonism toward the same problem or complaint.

We'll be in our new building at 619 Francisco Blvd. very soon. Our attitudes will be moved over, and improved. Improvements will be made as dictated by you—our public. Furniture will be new. Atmosphere clean and friendly.

Come visit us. If we shape up too slowly or too short to your liking, buttonhole Doug Cowan or me. You'll be doing us a big favor.

Robert Kennedy Not Thinking Of Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political future of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is the farthest thing from his mind just now, close associates of the brother of the assassinated president reported yesterday.

"He just hasn't had time to sort things out in his mind and plan a future," said one aide who asked not to be quoted by name.

But as the capital rebounds from the shock of John F. Kennedy's death, one of the top political questions is: What will become of Robert Kennedy now?

Until the death of the president, Robert Kennedy probably was the second most influential man in the executive branch. He was his brother's most intimate adviser.

Today, like nine other men, he is a member of President Lyndon B. Johnson's cabinet.

It is generally felt that Kennedy — at least for the foreseeable future — will remain attorney general. He would like to see the civil rights legislation pushed by him and his late brother get through Congress.

He most likely will want to be around to see what happens to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa when Hoffa's jury-tampering trial begins next January.

Friends of the attorney general report that he has developed high regard for Johnson because of the hard work and loyalty the Texan gave Kennedy while vice president. Loyalty to his older brother was Robert Kennedy's trademark.

Should Johnson seek re-election and win, it is a pretty safe bet that Kennedy will not stay in the cabinet beyond the present presidential term. If he is shooting for some distant political glory of his own, he may see as a prerequisite election to some office.

Rafferty Asks Hazard Study On Smoking

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, is backing a program to impress California school students with the hazards of smoking.

The superintendent, a member of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Advisory Committee on Smoking and Health, commented:

"Increasing evidence regarding health hazard involved in smoking cigarettes is a cause for concern for all educators in California."

Rafferty made the remarks on announcing an informational guide for teachers on smoking and health. He said he has received many requests for the pamphlet.

Chamber Meeting

The government affairs committee of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday at 1290 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Trustees Hear Plea To Name School Kennedy

Dixie School District trustees Wednesday took under advisement until Dec. 11 two requests to name schools for President John F. Kennedy.

Alan Fibish, of 724 Appleberry Drive, presented a 260-signature petition asking the name of Miller Creek School in Marinwood be changed to John F. Kennedy School. Bruce Flanagan, of 352 Mount Shasta Drive, asked that name for a school planned in the new Eichler development west of the Marin County Farm.

The board also asked Supt. Dennie B. Willis for recommendations on adding one teacher next semester in the internship teaching program with Dominican College. There is now one intern at Lucas Valley School.

Willis reported 3,460 enrollment in the district's schools. He cited that eight of the 103 classes exceed the maximum size of the board policy, 34 students per class, but the teacher-pupil ratio of the district is about 28 pupils per teacher.

The fallout shelter capacity of the State Department of Employment Building in Sacramento is 17,485.

Setting Festive Board For Holiday

Families of members of the Tamalpais Center Woman's Club in Kentfield may look to original and beautiful holiday festive boards if their recent individual place settings program is an indication.

More than 20 place settings, varying from themes of an autumn harvest to Christmas, were created for the luncheon meeting of the club's garden section.

Special feature of the afternoon was a talk on holiday foods by Mrs. Myron Kaplan.

Complementing holiday place settings are these accompanying recipes:

- 1 cup Tokay grapes, halved and seeded
- 1 small pear, peeled and diced
- ½ cup finely chapped celery

Combine gelatin and sugar. Add syrup drained from pineapple and cranberry juice cocktail. Heat, stirring, until gelatin is completely dissolved. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice. Cool. Add carbonated beverage and red food coloring to give desired shade.Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in drained pineapple, grapes, pear and celery. Turn into 5 or 6 cup mold. Chill firm. Unmold. Garnish as desired with frosted grapes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Remove each wafer carefully from baking sheet while still warm and roll quickly over handle of wooden spoon. Place on rack to cool. Makes about 3 dozen wafers.

HOT EGGNOG

Pour 4 cups scalded milk slowly over egg yolks, stirring constantly. Bring to simmering point slowly, stirring constantly. Members and their guests will be greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Angelo J. Filipelli, co-chairmen of the event.

They will be assisted by Messrs. and Mesdames M. Joseph Lamperti, Albin Dittli and David Michael.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres at 7:30 p.m. will begin the festivities which will conclude with dinner and dancing to a name band.

At midnight the traditional waltz contest will be held, awards going to the best dancers. Walter Tait, president of the cotillion, and his wife will have as their guests, Messrs. and Mesdames Louis Cantel Jr. and Leland Stanford Prior.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chironi will be the guests of the Robert Clarks. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Mitchell will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carter. ESTES HOME — Farm empire king Billie Sol Estes is officially bankrupt, and faces prison terms totaling 23 years, but he and his family still live a normal life in their spacious home in Abilene, Tex. (UPI photo)

Estes Still Lives Normal Texas Life

By LAWRENCE LEE

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI) —Along the main street of town, a thick-set, moon-faced man with black, curly hair and horn-rimmed glasses can be seen almost any day—just biding his time.

Billie Sol Estes, 39-year-old "wheeler-dealer" in agricultural products, is still a free man, although sentences of at least 15 years in prison hang over his head. He's free on bond pending appeals.

The presence of Estes on the streets of Abilene causes no stir. He and his wife Patsy and their five children live quietly in a spacious, split level house in the fashionable castle drive in southeast Abilene. The house is on a lake.

The Estes moved here a few months back after a sniper fired a rifle bullet through the front window of their former home in Pecos, Tex.

Billie Sol, now officially bankrupt and owing the federal government 10 million dollars in back taxes, occupies his time with the "International Love and Goodwill Corp" (ILGC), a non-profit group dedicated to helping "the needy of all races." It is most active in Ohio, Tennessee and Georgia.

Over the past year, Estes has made scores of speaking trips, mostly throughout the South and mostly to Negro churches on behalf of the corporation.

The Estes family attends the College Church of Christ in Abilene but Billie Sol is not active himself. When he goes to church it is usually at his own church, the Church of Christ at Clyde, Tex., 15 miles east of Abilene, where Estes was born and where his parents still live.

Recently, Billie Sol took the Fifth Amendment 26 times in declining to tell congressional investigators anything about the collapse of his 150-million-dollar agricultural empire in grain storage, cotton allotment and fertilizer storage tank business.

Those were the days when the Estes mansion in Pecos boasted a built-in waterfall in a 50-foot wide living room, imported palm trees and a front lawn kept green by dye, plus a swimming pool and a barbecue capable of roasting two steers at once.

On March 29, 1962, the roof fell in. Estes was arrested and charged with mail fraud and conspiracy. He was subsequently sentenced to eight years in prison in a state court at Tyler, Tex., on charges of swindling a farmer, and a federal court in El Paso, Tex., gave him 15 years for committing mail fraud and conspiracy. He is out on bond.

Said U.S. District Judge R. E. Thompson is sentencing Estes: "This is one of the most gigantic swindles in the history of our country."

Repercussions of the case quickly reached Washington and provoked a congressional investigation. Witnesses at hearings told of Estes buying $250 suits for Agriculture Department friends at an exclusive Dallas store and four Agriculture Department employees were fired or resigned because of the revelations.

Today Estes, looking thinner and more solemn than when he was a farm empire king, occasionally drops by a Negro church to teach a Bible class.

"He hasn't been around for about two months now," said the pastor of the North 10th Street and Treadway (Negro) Church of Christ. "But he used to come around more.

"The last time was on a Wednesday evening. He showed up in a 1957 Ford that belonged to his daughter and stopped in to teach a Bible class for teenagers."

The pastor said Estes "was a pretty good teacher." But he only showed "the good side," he said. "He's a pretty shrewd fellow. He'll let you know so much and that's all."

Estes has spoken out frequently in the South against racial segregation and has even supported pro-integration demonstrators between speechmaking dates.

"Segregation and Christianity cannot live together," he has told many church congregations.

Estes' lawyers have forbidden him to talk about business but he will say he feels he has changed.

"Business and money are no longer my gods," he said.

Board Troubled By Unification

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District are still struggling with a statement on the district's stand on the proposed unification of the Tamalpais High School District.

"Generally, they are for it," Supt. Clifford L. Frye said today. But the board is in difficulty in getting together on a statement. The board has met several times on the matter. Last meeting was Wednesday night.

Decision was put over until the next regular meeting, Dec. 10. "It seems to be mostly a matter of interpretation," Frye said.

Hearing Monday In Marin Court

A preliminary hearing for George Kotch, accused of hitting a Mill Valley woman over the head with a frying pan, has been set for Monday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Kotch, 56, of the Lincoln Hotel, San Rafael, was arrested Tuesday by Mill Valley police who said he forced his way into the home of Emma Mickens, 330 Miller Avenue, and beat her.

Kentucky Grocer Link to Germany

CORBIN, Ky. (AP)—When Mrs. Magdalene Vanover entered a conversation with grocer Herbert Eaton, he was reminded by her accent of his days during World War II in her native Germany.

He pulled out a photograph album and as a result, Mrs. Vanover and her former American soldier husband now have a picture of her when she was a little girl at Darmstadt, Germany.

Second-story Thief Pulls Thorny Job

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Robbing Mrs. Alice McQuown turned out to be a thorny task for a second-story man.

Police said the burglar climbed a drain pipe, forced a second floor bathroom window and took a watch and money from Mrs. McQuown's pocketbook. But, as he fled the drainpipe broke, dropping him into a thorn bush.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Here Is Story Of Beatnik Who Was Found To Be Taking Distorting Drug

VAN DELLEN

A few months ago we mentioned the growing medical and social problems associated with the use of a variety of drugs that cause hallucinations, concentrating on lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD-25). But there are others, including stramonium, mescaline (peyote), psilocybin, marijuana, and morning glory seeds.

Here is another story on the mind distorting products. An 18-year-old beatnik was found early one morning wandering through an apartment building, completely naked. Someone gave him a pink blanket that clashed somewhat with his long, reddish-brown hair and beard. The young man was in a pleasant mood and said he had lost his clothes in a fire, later confiding he took them off because they were dirty. He told of having been on a drinking spree but there was no smell of alcohol on his breath.

THE YOUNG MAN was hospitalized and his wife notified. In time, Dr. Edward S. Dean of San Francisco learned that the patient was familiar with a variety of drugs, including Asthmador, an old-time asthma remedy containing stramonium and belladonna. Stramonium comes from Jimson weed and contains atropine and several other drugs. The young man admitted taking this product to bring on hallucinations.

According to an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Assn., the promoters of these hallucinogenic agents minimize the dangers and, to sell their wares, use such hogwash as ". . . less harmful than aspirin or alcohol," ". . . less dangerous than riding in a motor car," and ". . . spiritual and intellectual rewards are vivid, wonderful, and inexpressible." Others assert the drugs ". . . free the mind for creative activity that otherwise would be beyond reach."

NO WONDER these products are so popular among certain so-called Bohemian intellectuals. They expect to experience a little hell or heaven but usually end up stupid and confused or hallucinated and excited. The editorial makes this statement: "Those attracted to the hallucinogenic drugs often are those most likely to be harmed by them."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

WHITE LIGHTNING

J. D. writes: My 58-year-old husband drinks three bottles of whisky and one case of beer a week. Could this intake be responsible for the hot flashes he complains of?

REPLY

No, even though whisky is sometimes called firewater. Hot flashes are of neurocirculatory origin and are not necessarily related to the change of life.

OVER-ALL PUFFING

Mrs. F. T. writes: What makes a pregnant woman swell all over from fluid in the tissues?

REPLY

Toxemia of pregnancy is the main cause. In this condition, the blood pressure goes up and albumin appears in the urine.

OXYGEN FOR EMPHYSEMA

Mrs. I. writes: A neighbor has emphysema and his lungs are gone. The only relief he gets is from using a tank of oxygen a month. Isn't this too much?

REPLY

No, even though he uses a standard sized tank.

VEIN CONGESTION

R. F. writes: Do hemorrhoids ever shrink so that operation is not needed?

REPLY

Yes. This is a common occurrence. Surgery is needed when hemorrhoids bleed or remain congested.

Science Can Control Size Of Chicken Egg

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—What will science do next!—Now that it can dictate to the chicken the size of the egg the chicken lays!

It had been a long-sought goal of poultry science and it was reached under pressure, after many failures.

For ages past, hens have been making themselves nuisances to egg dealers, egg handlers and egg users by hanging onto the hen's prerogative of laying eggs of varying sizes.

Eggs have had to be sorted and graded. Countless cake recipes have disappointed because the eggs were too small or too large. Premature midday hunger pangs have annoyingly reminded multitudes that two medium-sized eggs for breakfast are not as nutritionally lasting as two large ones.

These and other egg complaints have kept the pressure high on poultry scientists as they theorized and experimented in search of reliable technique for persuading chickens to lay eggs of a standard size.

No one ever has made an impression on a chicken by arguing. Clearly the only possibility of success hinged on manipulating the chemical means the chicken uses in running up eggs for laying.

Poultry scientists have tried injecting chicken with hormones and other stimulants. But this method had to be ruled out. Either stimulants didn't work or they got into the eggs and were passed on to egg consumers.

The most promising approach proved to be through chicken feed. Eggs are high in protein. It became clear that chickens feeding on feed relatively high in protein laid large eggs although not consistently nor uniformly.

The amino acids are the building blocks from which chickens (as well as people and all animals) chemically build their own characteristic proteins. And so amino acids were added to high-protein chicken feed.

But again the results were disappointing. Egg size generally increased but still there was no consistency even in one hen much less in a flock of hens.

Puzzling over these inconsistencies B. E. March and J. Biely of the Poultry Science Department of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, theorized that "balance" of amino acids rather than the amounts fed to chickens was the decisive factor.

With 48 white leghorn pullets they proved out the theory. All were fed fixed amounts of grains, distillers solubles, soy bean oil meal and vitamins which added up to a protein diet. The 48 were divided into three groups of 16 each.

Each one of the three got a different formulation of amino acids as a supplement. Over a period of many years, the groups were switched around among the three formulations. The result was a clear demonstration that while taking in lysine and methionine all pullets laid uniformly large eggs.

On the other hand, glycine, another amino acid, "depressed" egg size when it was the only dietary supplement. The whole business worked like a charm. After four days of lysine-methionine intake, the pullets went into large egg production. Four days after they stopped getting those amino acids, they switched back to smaller eggs.

Wild Past For Town

BULLION BEND (UPI)—In its heydey, this hamlet in the heart of the Mother Lode country was noted for numerous and daring stage robberies.

Independent-Journal.

Remember the day you gave her a bike?

Remember how she looked... standing high between the pedals and the sky? Even the sun shone special that day, to go with her smile. And you knew you'd never bought anything quite so wonderful.

It was a treasure, not just a bike. And you couldn't help feeling just a little proud of yourself, too...for using I-J Classified ads to help you buy it. (They always said you were practical).

Remember how you ransacked the attic...sold that old sports equipment, a chair, and other things you no longer needed? A quick-acting Classified ad in the Independent-Journal turned a little magic for you...brought in the money that brought home the bike.

Ever so many people in Marin use I-J Classified for just that ...selling things they don't need to buy things they want. Quickly, easily, at low cost. Just a matter of thinking about it...

MARIN FILM FARE

Off-Beat Movie For Teens Due

By LES DARD

Here's the weekend film fare at Marin County's motion picture theaters:

RAFAEL THEATER

Real off-beat — and sure to draw our teen-agers—is "Palm Springs Weekend." It's the Hollywood version of one of those weekends of madness — sought by college boys and girls, in this case of our own California.

Teen favorites Troy Donahue, Connie Stevens, Ty Hardin, Stefanie Powers and Bob Conrad play stellar roles.

The fun weekend means headaches for Palm Springs police chief Andrew Duggan, but a ball for his daughter, Stefanie Powers. A bus-load of incoming revelers includes members of a college basketball team captained by Donahue and shepherded by coach Jack Weston. Miss Stevens is another passenger, a Hollywood high school student who poses as a wealthy college girl.

Conrad plays a wealthy youth whose absentee father has given him a snazzy convertible. He picks up Miss Stevens. He baits Texan Ty Hardin, who plays a Hollywood stunt man, into a race, and when turned down forces Hardin off the road.

That gets things started, and from there on in it's a mixture of trouble, romance and partying.

Co-featured is "Island of Love," a farce starring Robert Preston, Tony Randall, Walter Mathau and Betty Bruce. Its center is a fast-talking con man who will do anything for money, in a story that moves from New York to Greece.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Now showing:

"Fun in Acapulco," current through Tuesday, stars guitar playing, hip-swiveling Elvis Presley as an aerialist who develops a fear of heights after being involved in a fatal accident.

Out of a job, his wanderings take him to Acapulco, where he starts work at a beach hotel as a part-time lifeguard and singer in the supper show.

The bulk of the rather thin plot is centered on Presley's efforts to overcome his phobia, and to decide between a lady bull-fighter and a pretty ex-duchess.

Presley does considerable singing, most of it good, and is accompanied by a fine Mexican male chorus.

Also on the bill is a re-issue, "Last Train From Gun Hill," a big-scale Western starring Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn and Carolyn Jones.

NOVATO THEATER

Arriving Sunday is "Thrill of It All," an airily delightful laugh-fest headed by the top box-office attraction Doris Day.

Doris doesn't use her golden singing voice here, but performs sweetly as combination suburban wife and mother, glamor girl and sexy comedienne.

As a thrifty housewife, she accepts an $80,000-a-year offer to do TV commercials. She's an instant hit, but the job takes up all her time.

Neglected husband James Garner objects for himself and the children. One funny incident follows another as the script pokes fun at family life, television, advertising, status-seeking and assorted American foibles.

Also contributing are Arlene Francis, Zasu Pitts and Reginald Owen. There are glossy settings and sophisticated humor abounds.

"For Love or Money," is of similar character, with Kirk Douglas turning his hand to comedy as he tries to marry off three beautiful girls for millionairess Thelmo Ritter. Mitzie Gaynor, Julie Newmar and Leslie Parrish are the girls, and Gig Young and William Bendix support.

101 DRIVE-IN

Playing through Sunday night is "McLintock," in which John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara help to spoof the Western in a way-way-out Western.

Wayne struts outrageously as a rugged pioneer feudal lord who takes no nonsense from either Indians, settlers or government. He settles his problems by bellowing loud enough to shrivel up a longhorn.

In this story, Wayne takes the side of the Indians, whom he thinks the government is mis-treating.

He thinks he knows about being mistreated because it's the story of his life with wife Maureen O'Hara, a handsome, determined shrew. They stage one of the most sustained, known-down-drag-out husband-and-wife brawls we've seen.

Yvonne DeCarlo and Stefanie Powers lend assists and other credits are generally good.

Co-featured is "King Solomon's Mines, an African adventure — and a good one — with Deborah Kerr and Stewart Granger as principals.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Two dramas go on screen Sunday:

"Rampage" puts forth Robert Mitchum and Jack Hawkins as big game hunters — but there's a difference. Mitchum captures, Hawkins kills. When Mitchum is commissioned to trap a legendary half-tiger, half-leopard there's tension between the two.

And there's romantic tension revolving around Elsa Martinelli, Hawkin's longtime girl friend who takes a shine to Mitchum.

"Wall of Noise" is an absorbing drama of race horses and the men who train, ride and own them. Ty Hardin, Suzanne Pleshette, Ralph Meeker and Dorothy Provine star.

It's low budget, but the action scenes at Hollywood Park are as good as any you are likely to see.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Love Is a Ball," now showing, is pure delight. Its original and more appropriate title was "The Grand Duke and Mr. Pimm," after a novel by Lindsay Howard on which it's based.

Charles Boyer is Mr. Pimm, a deluxe marriage broker. His client: Ricardo Montalban, an impoverished duke. The target: Hope Lange, an American millionairess with 40 million dollars.

The result: Fun. And it's all in lavish settings beautifully photographed on the Riviera.

Co-featured is "Hatari," a blend of adventure, comedy and romance starring John Wayne, Red Buttons, Elsa Martinelli and Bruce Cabot. Wayne plays a zoo animal hunter. The film involves one exciting hunt after another.

MOTOR MOVIES

Humor, sentiment and uplifting quality surround "Lilies of the Field" showing through Sunday.

The story concerns five refugee nuns trying to cultivate a parched Arizona prairie willed to them. Alone and fundless, they're badly in need of a miracle.

Down the road comes happy handyman Sidney Poiter, his car full of tools. He's an unwilling worker, but can't resist the habits. Soon the charming nuns have him doing chores, reluctantly. Eventually he agrees to build a chapel.

The spirit of help catches on. Soon Mexicans, the East German nuns, an Irish priest and the Negro carpenter are working happily together in a common cause.

No spoken message here, but much to be learned.

Surprise of the season and most refreshing.

LARK THEATER

Staying with us is the unusual Danish film, "A Stranger Knocks."

A young widow lives alone in a secluded cabin, faithful to the memory of her husband, slain by Nazi collaborators.

A stranger comes seeking refuge. His gentle qualities win her over and soon there develops a deep attachment that can only be shattered.

Brigitte Federspiel as the lonely lady and Preben Lordoff Rye as the stranger are the only performers, both marvelous.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Staying on in its return run is "Mondo Cane," the sensational-but - sickening depiction of much of what is ugly and grotesque and some of what is amusing in the Western world.

It's the work of Italian photo-journalist Gualtiero Jacopetti, and includes 29 fast-paced, expertly juxtaposed episodes.

"The Sky Above, the Mud Below" is co - featured, a documentary of daring exploration among stone-age inhabitants of New Guinea. It records an adventure of seven daring Frenchmen in 1959.

WESTERN SPOOF — John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara and Yvonne DeCarlo star in "McLintock," showing through Sunday at 101 Drive-In. It is a spoof on Hollywood western movies.

Cartoon About LBJ Appears

LONDON (UPI) — The first humorous cartoon about President Lyndon B. Johnson appeared in a British newspaper today.

The Daily Mail printed a small first-page cartoon showing Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home talking to an Englishman. Instead of his usual dark and sober clothes, Douglas-Home wore a rakishly-cut coat, a loud necktie and the initials "ADH" on his shirt.

The caption said: "As I was saying to LBJ . . ."

Records Banned

PARIS (UPI) — Records by French pop singer Francoise Hardy were banned for a week from the state-run French radio and television networks after she told a reporter, "I seldom listen to the radio and when I do it is to foreign stations. I don't have a television set."

Santa Claus Arrives By Boat, Parachute

Huxley Felt 'Brave New World' Just 200 Years Away

By JOHN DART

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Aldous Huxley, who succumbed to cancer one week ago today, left a world he felt was heading dangerously toward his creation, "Brave New World."

Huxley, writing in 1931 the novel for which he became most widely known, set the story 600 years into the future (or "somewhere in the sixth or seventh century A.F.—after Ford.")

But in a 1956 interview with a reporter, he saw the formation of the Brave New World in less than 200 years.

Huxley himself described his prophecy in novel form as "the completely organized society, the scientific caste system, the abolition of free will by methodical conditioning, the servitude made acceptable by regular doses of chemically induced happiness, the orthodoxies drummed in by nightly courses of sleep-teaching . . ."

In the 1956 interview, he said: "I envisaged industrial regimentation occurring much farther in the future. But now, with sleep-teaching, brainwashing, hypnosis and conditioned reflex experiments we are close to a rigid caste system where people are trained for only one function."

Huxley, brother of biologist Julian Huxley and grandson of Thomas Huxley, a champion of Charles Darwin's theories of evolution, said further that he believed the next great revolution will be led by scientists and medical men. "Even now, the earth's population is dependent on the minds of a half-million or so scientists and technicians," he said.

"The society of the future would be without poverty, but also without freedom or thought — an outgrowth of searching for absolute security," he continued.

"Still, we cannot turn back. The reason is overpopulation. Earth's population has more than doubled in my 60 years of life. It's increased from slightly more than one billion to two and a half billion."

In "Brave New World Revisited," a book first published in 1958, Huxley said again the "shortest and broadest road" to the nightmare world leads through over-population, but said also "this blind biological enemy of freedom" is allied with the forces of the advances in technology.

He wrote that the progress of technology is leading to a centralization of power; that the machinery of mass production is made more efficient but at the same time more complex and expansive — "and so less available to the enterpriser of limited means."

"As the Little Men disappear, more and more economic power comes to be wielded by fewer and fewer people," he wrote in the chapter entitled "over-organization."

Huxley was hardly an anarchist, however:

"Organization is indispensable; for liberty arises and has meaning only within a self-regulating community of freely cooperating individuals," he wrote.

It is too much organization which he felt would transform men and women into automata. "As usual, the only safe course is in the middle, between the extremes of laissez-faire at one end of the scale and of total control at the other," he said.

What solutions did Huxley offer?

Again, in "Brave New World Revisited" he had some suggestions, though he expressed no great confidence that they were the solution.

As examples of preventive legislation for the protection of the mind, Huxley thought it possible to establish legislation limiting officials in the use of sleep-teaching, legislation prohibiting the use of subliminal protection on television screens or public places, and prevention of political candidates from resorting to anti-rational propaganda.

These moves he saw as probably only temporary stopgaps "against the steadily-increasing pressures of over-population and of the over-organization imposed by growing numbers and advancing technology."

"Obviously we must, with all possible speed, reduce the birth rate to the point where it does not exceed the death rate," Huxley wrote. At the same time, food production must be increased and a world-wide policy of soil and forest conservation must be implemented, he implored.

As for over-organization arising from increasing centralization of government, Huxley offered merely: "It is now a historical fact that the means of production are fast becoming the monopolistic property of big business and big government. Therefore, if you believe in democracy, make arrangements to distribute property."

Huxley, who made his home in the Hollywood Hills section of Los Angeles and had moved to California in 1937, also suggested that to avoid the spiritual impoverishment of individuals in big cities "leave the metropolis and revive the small country community," or create within the metropolis the urban equivalents of small country communities.

In another interview in 1961, commenting on what the world would be like in 1986, the then 66-year-old author appeared somewhat optimistic but only if a sense of urgency were realized.

"All I venture to answer is that we have enough intelligence and good will — if we only use them — to overcome all our difficulties," he said, adding:

"Let us never forget that time is against us."
